ARROWHEAD STADIUM

Tenth Anniversary 1972-1981

Magnificent Arrowhead Stadium, the home of the Kansas City Chiefs, celebrates its tenth anniversary this 1981 season. Part of the Harry S. Truman Sports Complex, which also includes a 42,000-seat baseball stadium for the Kansas City Royals, Arrowhead has been acclaimed one of the NFL's finest facilities. The stadium was dedicated on August 12, 1972, when the Kansas City Chiefs defeated their cross-state rivals, the St. Louis Cardinals, 24-14, in the inaugural preseason encounter. Since that first game in Arrowhead, 5,136,666 spectators have passed through the stadium turnstiles in the past nine years to watch the Chiefs play. A record crowd of 82,094 saw the Chiefs defeat the rival Oakland Raiders, 27-14, on Nov. 5, 1972. The 78,067-seat, triple-decked stadium has also produced three other NFL crowds of more than 79,000.

CHIEFS OWNER

LAMAR HUNT

Over the last two decades, pro football has moved into a place of prominence among America's sporting fans and Kansas City Chiefs owner Lamar Hunt has played no small role in that success.

The current president of the AFC and founder of the old American Football League, Hunt has been a unique architect in the development and excitement of the game since he formed the AFL in 1960.

As the 1981 season opens, this quiet Texan begins his 22nd year in pro football as the sole owner of the Kansas City Chiefs. Long honored and respected by his peers,

Hunt was recently recognized by the NFL Alumni Association when he received its highest award—The Order of the Leather Helmet—at the annual 1981 convention. Hunt, along with Dallas Cowboys head coach Tom Landry, received the distinguished award for dedication and service to pro football. One of the main forces in the growth and development of pro football, Hunt accepted the award by noting, "I'm honored because this award comes from men who built the game of football and made it possible."

Hunt's initial venture into organized sports was as a player. He was a reserve end at Southern Methodist University. Of his brief collegiate playing career, Hunt once quipped: "Fortunately I didn't drop any passes because none were ever thrown at the end of the bench."

Indicative of his stature within the game is the fact that he was the first AFL figure to be enshrined in the Pro Football Hall of Fame. That honor was bestowed on Hunt in 1972 when, at the enshrinement ceremonies in Canton, Hunt's good friend Bill Sullivan of the New England Patriots described the Chiefs owner as the "architect, designer and builder of an impossible dream."

That dream, to start a new pro football league, unfolded in the early part of 1959, became a reality with eight new AFL franchises opening the 1960 season and a new league truly was born. Later, of course, came the merger with the NFL and the creation of the Super Bowl, both events partially orchestrated by Hunt. Appropriately enough, it was Hunt's team, the Chiefs, who played in that first world championship game in January of 1967 against the Green Bay Packers and then came back to win the Super Bowl in January of 1970 against the Minnesota Vikings.

Hunt continues to be a prominent pro football leader and his ventures in Kansas City involve more than just the Chiefs. First there were improvements the Chiefs funded during the construction of Arrowhead Stadium in 1972. Hunt then developed a multi-million-dollar, Kansas City area recreation park, Worlds of Fun, which has generated over an 8-year period more than 19,000 jobs for area youth and attracted some 5.5 million tourists to the Kansas City area. Hunt Midwest Enterprises, Inc., formed in 1980, has become the corporate holding company for Worlds of Fun and the Great Midwest Corporation, a diversified company involved in surface and underground development, mining, warehousing and pipeline construction.

A sportsman in the true sense of the word—and jogger and tennis player, Hunt is also involved in several other sports ventures. He organized and coordinated the formation and development of World Championship Tennis and, through WCT, helped bring the sport further international prominence. He is a director of the Dallas Tornado, of the North American Soccer League and he also is one of the founding owners of the Chicago Bulls of the NBA.

In addition to his numerous business commitments, Hunt is active as a member of the board of directors of NFL Charities and is a member of the Board of Trustees of the Pro Football Hall of Fame. Hunt also is active in numerous civic functions and events in both Dallas and in Kansas City.

Hunt and his wife, Norma, have four children, Lamar Jr., Sharon Clark and Daniel.

CHEFS PRESIDENT

JACK STEADMAN

It is with much pride that Chiefs president Jack Steadman ushers in the 1981 pro football season as Arrowhead Stadium celebrates its tenth anniversary and Steadman begins his 21st year as the chief executive officer for Lamar Hunt's pro football franchise.

Joining Hunt's AFL Dallas Texans team as its general manager in 1960, the team's initial year of existence, Steadman has experienced much success in pro football and the business world. He coordinated the team's franchise move from Dallas to Kansas City in 1963 and was the key force in establishing the Chiefs as the premiere sports attraction in Kansas City. He watched with a great deal of pride as this organization claimed pro football's world championship following the 1969 season. He was the leader in the construction and development of the Harry S Truman Sports Complex, the dual-stadium facility that includes Arrowhead Stadium, the 78,000-seat home of the Chiefs and recognized as one of pro football's finest complexes. And, he has been the driving force and the key administrator in the Chiefs rebuilding program and reorganization in the last decade that is geared to return the team to NFL prominence.

"Our goal," said Steadman recently about the Chiefs reorganization program that began in 1975, "is not to be a flash-in-the-pan, but to build a solid team and a solid base in such a way that once we achieve success at the championship level we can maintain that success year after year. In that sense I feel our approach is very sound."

Considered one of pro football's outstanding administrators, Steadman initiated the team's reorganization by separating the coaching and scouting departments and changing to a very sophisticated talent and scouting program in the quest to rebuild into another Super Bowl contender.

Steadman has been a constant innovator since entering pro football and many of his ideas and developments have been duplicated throughout the NFL. Some of these creative ideas include a ticket-by-telephone system for enhancing area-wide sales, a unique seat relocation program for season ticket holders, a reserved parking plan for Arrowhead and numerous other ticket and marketing programs.

Steadman was promoted from general manager to executive vice president and general manager in 1966 and, in August of 1976, was named president of the Chiefs in charge of all operations.

In addition to serving as president of the Chiefs, Steadman also is president of Hunt Midwest Enterprises, Inc., which owns Worlds of Fun, the multi-million-dollar family recreation park in the Kansas City area, and Great Midwest Corporation, a real estate limestone rock mining and underground development firm in the Kansas City International Trade Zone. He also is a vice president of the First Fidelity Liquidating Trust and a member of the board of directors of Commerce Bank.

Actively involved within the community since arriving in Kansas City, Steadman is a tireless worker and detailed organizer in many area and civic projects. In 1981, he serves as the president of the Heart of America United Way, an organization that raises more than 16 million in support of 130 local charitable agencies. His other civic endeavors include participation on the board of managers and board of directors of Starlight Theatre, Children's Mercy Hospital and the American Royal Association. Steadman also is a member of the Civic Council of Greater Kansas City, the Kansas City Area Economic Development Council and an advisory trustee of the Research Medical Center.

Born in Aurora, Illinois, Steadman grew up in Warrenville, Illinois, and Dallas, Texas. He attended Baylor University and received his degree in business administration from Southern Methodist University. Jack and his wife, Martha, reside in Mission Hills, Kansas.

CHEFS GENERAL MANAGER

JIM SCHAAF

Jim Schaaf, the Chiefs 43-year-old general manager, begins his 16th season with the team in a career that has covered virtually all areas of the club's operation. Schaaf joined the Chiefs in 1966 as director of public relations following five years association with the Kansas City Athletics baseball club. He was elevated to assistant general manager in January, 1968, and to vice president in July, 1974.

Schaaf was named to his present position in August of 1976. Following Lamar Hunt's elevation of Jack Steadman to president, Steadman instituted a reorganization of the club's front office that resulted in Schaaf's being named vice president and general manager. In January, 1978, Steadman delegated to Schaaf full responsibility in the areas of player personnel and overall team operations. In that assignment, he works closely with head coach Marv Levy and player personnel director Les Miller and their staffs in the day-to-day responsibility of player personnel and football team areas of operation.

"Jim has all the qualities you look for in a general manager," says Steadman. "He is dedicated, aggressive, intelligent, thorough and highly motivated to succeed. In the last couple years, we have shown substantial progress in all team-related areas of operation. This has been due in no small way to Jim's dedication and leadership. He is now being recognized as one of the most outstanding general managers in pro football."

Schaaf's duties in the past included supervision of Chiefs day-to-day operations and the promotion of special events. Schaaf held several front office positions with the Athletics and was their director of publicity and promotions when he joined the Chiefs.

Schaaf was born May 22, 1938 in Erie, Pennsylvania. He attended Cathedral Preparatory School in Erie, then moved to Notre Dame, where he earned a bachelor's degree in economics. He played three years of football for the Fighting Irish, two as a starter, at guard from 1956-58. He and his wife, Julie, have two children, Jill Marie, 17, and James, 13. The family lives in Overland Park.

CHIEFS HEAD COACH

MARV LEVY

Over the past three seasons, Marv Levy has measured the Chiefs progress by the numbers that count the most: those in the won/lost column.

And in each of those seasons, Levy's club has shown improvement from one year to the next. His first squad was 4-12, followed by 7-9, then an 8-8 finish in 1980. The last time the Chiefs won eight regular season games had been in 1972. Additionally, Kansas City finished in third place in the rugged AFC Western Division, bested only by Super Bowl champion Oakland and division winner San Diego.

Looking back over his first three Kansas City campaigns, Levy sees his team as being on the right track. "When I came here, the Chiefs made a decision. We made a commitment that we were going to build this team through the draft. We were going to build it with players we develop, from training camp on. That decision was sound. I believe in it and we have stuck by it. We are making progress building the team the way we committed to do it. And I think that's important."

"It's the sound way. And it's going to get us not in the Super Bowl, but make us Super Bowl champions."

Nineteen-eighty was a learning process for many Chiefs. "We got a lot of experience for our young players. It was painful at times, but it helped us improve." Going into last season, Kansas City was the youngest NFL team with an average age of just over 24.5 years per man.

"All in all, I feel very good about the progress we're making. We are a factor in our division. We got part of the way last year in terms of being competitive in the AFC West. This year, it's our intent to move up among the leaders."

Marvin Daniel Levy came to the Chiefs by way of the Canadian Football League, but he was by no means a stranger to NFL circles when he was named head coach (only the fourth in club history) on December 20, 1977. From 1973 through 1977, Levy was head coach of the CFL Montreal Alouettes and it was his spectacular success north of the border that made him a head coaching candidate in the NFL. This is the ninth consecutive season that Levy has been a head coach on the professional level.

Counting postseason play in which the Alouettes won the CFL Grey Cup two times in Levy's five years, his record in Canada was 50-34-4. The Alouettes made the CFL playoffs each of Levy's five seasons, played for the Grey Cup three times and, in 1977, Montreal recorded its best-ever regular season record, 11 victories and five defeats. The Als finished the year with a 41-6 Grey Cup rout of Edmonton.

Marv began his professional coaching career in 1969 with the Philadelphia Eagles as kicking teams coach. He joined George Allen's Los Angeles Rams staff in 1970, then moved with Allen to the Washington Redskins the following year. Levy remained on the Redskins staff through the 1972 season. With a great emphasis on the Levy-coached kicking teams, Washington won the 1972 NFC championship, 26-3 over the Dallas Cowboys, then met Miami in Super Bowl VII. Levy moved to Montreal in 1973. His first squad reached the finals of the CFL's Eastern Division, then won the Grey Cup the following year.

A Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Coe College in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, where he was an outstanding running back, Levy also holds a master's degree in English history from Harvard. His coaching career got underway at Coe from 1953 through 1955. He joined the New Mexico staff in 1956 and was New Mexico's head coach in 1958-59. After receiving Skyline Conference coach of the year honors both those seasons, Levy took over at California in 1960, coaching the Golden Bears through the 1963 season. One of Levy's players at the time was All-American quarterback Craig Morton. His next coaching assignment was at William and Mary, where he stayed five years. Levy was named Southern Conference coach of the year in 1964 and '65.

Having spent considerable time around George Allen, who recommended him highly for the Chiefs post, Levy knows the importance of a strong defense and quality kicking teams. These were the first two areas he concentrated on after coming to Kansas City. "The encouraging aspect, to me, about our defense," he says, "is that in spite of its youth, it has grown up quickly in terms of experience. Several of our young players were able to gain some badly-needed experience last year. That is going to help us immensely in the years to come."

Levy is aware of the Chiefs 1980 shortcomings offensively. "Looking back, the biggest burdens I felt as a coach that I had to face when I came here were seeking to win and get better fast while also developing a quarterback. We improved greatly last year at the quarterback position over the course of one season. In Steve Fuller and Bill Kenney, we have two young players who have proven they can play in games, and deliver. Hopefully, we can make the same type of improvement in other phases of our offense as well."

Levy also knows the challenge of moving into the NFL's upper echelons after two seasons at the midpoint level. "But that's what every coach is trying to do when he moves into a situation," he says, "either to maintain a winning team or build up a team that hasn't been winning. I've never been one to make predictions on how any team of mine is going to finish. What I'm looking for, and I think anyone who follows the Chiefs is looking for, is continued improvement each season. That is our aim. If we achieve that, the other things will fall into place. We did a lot of things very well last year, and we must continue to do those things well. We need to get better in other areas, and I am confident we will do that. I believe this team has the ability to compete with anyone in the National League. I'm looking forward eagerly to this coming season."

Levy is married to the former Dorothy Prout, whom he met when both were students at Coe. They make their home in Overland Park.

CHIEFS COACHING STAFF

ROD RUST, Defensive Coordinator

A longtime friend and coaching acquaintance, Rod Rust was the first appointee to Marv Levy's coaching staff in 1978. He came to Kansas City from the Philadelphia Eagles, where he worked the 1976-77 seasons under Dick Vermeil with the linebackers and front seven.

"Rod, I feel, has done a fine job coordinating our defense," Levy says. "In the three seasons he has been in charge, it has shown noticeable improvement from what it was when we came here." The 53-year-old

Rust, a native of Webster City, Iowa, has coached with and against Levy in the past. Prior to joining the Eagles coaching staff, Rust spent three seasons, 1973-75, as defensive coordinator for Levy's Montreal Alouettes.

A center and linebacker at Iowa State, Rust completed a two-year tour of duty with the U.S. Army in the Far East before embarking on his coaching career. His first collegiate experience was at the University of New Mexico as an assistant in 1960. He moved on to Stanford in 1963 where he was defensive coordinator under John Ralston through 1966. Levy, meanwhile, was across town as head coach of the California Bears during part of Rust's stint at Stanford.

In 1967, Rust was named head coach at North Texas State. During his six years there, he helped develop several outstanding defensive linemen, including all-pros Joe Greene of the Pittsburgh Steelers and Cedrick Hardman, formerly of San Francisco and now with Oakland.

Rod is the father of two sons, Jeff, 28; and Greg, 25. He makes his home in North Kansas City.

WALT COREY, Defensive Backfield Coach

Walt Corey has a new coaching assignment for 1981, that of the defensive backfield. With the change, Corey now has coached all phases of the Kansas City defense at one time or other in his career.

A former Chiefs player, Corey was a member of Hank Stram's staff, then returned to Arrowhead in 1978 under Marv Levy. Corey's assignment the past three years was the defensive line, and he helped develop the talents of Art Still, named to the AFC Pro Bowl squad last season. He now turns his attention to the secondary, which features one all-pro in Gary Barbaro and a pair of multi-talented cornerbacks, Gary Green and Eric Harris.

"Walt and I had discussed his coaching the defensive backs in the past," says Levy. "We had a couple of vacancies in the staff to fill during the off-season, and this seemed like the right time to make the move. Walt helped our defensive line improve markedly, and he will bring the same enthusiasm and teaching ability to our secondary."

Corey played linebacker with the Dallas Texans and Chiefs from the American Football League's inception in 1960 through the 1966 season. He entered the collegiate coaching ranks in 1967 at Utah State, then returned to Miami (Fla.), his alma mater, in 1970. Walt worked under Stram as linebacker coach for four years, 1971-74, then spent the next three seasons on the Cleveland Browns coaching staff prior to his return to Kansas City.

A devoted weight training enthusiast, Corey handled those responsibilities in the past with the Chiefs. It was a personal training program that allowed Corey his chance to play pro football. He built himself up to 235 pounds, from a 180-pound defensive end, to win a tryout with the Texans. He also instituted the Chiefs first weight-training conditioning program in 1964 as an active player.

Walt and his wife, Jane, daughter Carla, 14; and son Mark, 13; make their home in Raytown.

DON LAWRENCE, Defensive Line Coach

As part of the restructuring of Marv Levy's coaching staff, Don Lawrence directs the defensive line after spending last year, his first with the Chiefs, as kicking teams coach. Lawrence takes over for Walt Corey, who switches to the defensive backs.

Lawrence moves into familiar territory, however, as much of his playing and coaching career has been spent on the defensive line. Prior to coming to Kansas City in 1980, Lawrence spent the 1978-79 seasons with the CFL British Columbia Lions in charge of the defensive line and linebackers.

A graduate of Notre Dame, Lawrence was a sixth round draft choice of the Washington Redskins in 1959. He played guard and defensive tackle in the NFL through 1961 before moving into coaching, beginning at his alma mater.

He's also coached at two Big Eight schools. Lawrence was with Kansas State in 1964-65 and spent the 1976-77 seasons under Al Onofrio at Missouri.

"Don is very familiar with defensive line play and technique," Levy says. "He will bring to our defensive linemen the same dedication and attention to detail he had with our kicking teams a year ago."

Lawrence was head coach at Virginia from 1971-73, compiling an 11-22 record. He moved to Texas Christian University in 1974-75 before departing TCU for Missouri. He was a three-year letterman at Notre Dame from 1956-58 where one of his teammates was current Chiefs general manager Jim Schaaf.

Don and his wife, Barbara, have three children, Kay, 18; Betsy, 17; and Joe, 16. They make their home in Overland Park.

BOBBY ROSS, Offensive Backfield Coach

Bobby Ross opens his fourth year with the Chiefs and is in his second as offensive backfield coach. The 44-year-old Ross directed the club's kicking teams in 1978-79 and in that span, the Chiefs ranked at or near the top in nearly every kicking category. He took over the offensive backfield chores last year and hopes in '81 to have the same success with the rushing game that he enjoyed with the kicking game.

Ross and Marv Levy have been associated together in the past. Ross was an assistant on Levy's William and Mary staff. "I have known Bobby a long time and I believe him to be a bright, imaginative coach. Our overall rushing figures last year belie the fact Bobby did an outstanding coaching job," Levy says.

A graduate of Virginia Military Institute, Ross coached on the high school level in Virginia before landing an assistant's position at his alma mater in 1965-66. He joined Levy in 1967 and worked two years under the Chiefs head coach, then two more years at William and Mary after Levy left to join the Philadelphia Eagles. Ross departed William and Mary in 1970 for Rice. He was with the Owls for one season before moving to Jerry Claiborne's Maryland staff in 1972. In December of that year, he was named head coach at The Citadel, where he had a combined 24-31 record in five years at the school.

Bobby and his wife, Alice, have five children. Chris, 19, a former quarterback at Raytown South High School, is now in his sophomore year at the Air Force Academy. Mary Catherine, the next oldest, is 17, followed by Teresa, 16; Kevin, 15; and Robbie, 7. The family lives in Raytown.

KAY DALTON, Quarterbacks & Receivers Coach

With the development of Steve Fuller and the emergence of Bill Kenney, Kay Dalton now will oversee the progress of two of the league's best young quarterbacks. The 49-year-old Dalton, a native of Moab, Utah, has already played a large part in Fuller's improvement over the last two seasons. And Kenney's showing in the final three games of last year is due greatly to the time spent with Dalton on the practice field and in the film room.

Dalton's passing game philosophies are built around more than a decade of coaching experience in both the NFL and CFL. Dalton coached the Denver Broncos receivers from 1974-76, then spent 1977 at Buffalo, before joining Mary Levy's staff the following year. This season is Dalton's fourth with the Chiefs and eighth consecutive in the NFL.

"Kay and I go back a long ways," Levy says. "We went from a situation of being very unsettled at quarterback to a position of strength. Kay has really helped both Steve and Bill come into their own. At the same time, he's helped make better players of our starting receivers as well. I feel our passing game this year will be the best it has ever been in my four years here."

Dalton came to the Chiefs on the heels of a strong passing performance by the '77 Bills. While in charge of the Buffalo passing game, the Bills led the AFC in passing offense with the most net yards and highest per-game average.

Dalton's and Levy's coaching roots both go back to Montreal and the CFL. Kay's first professional assignment came in 1966 at Montreal and he was named the Alouettes head coach the next year. He led the Als through 1969, then became offensive coordinator of the British Columbia Lions in 1970.

A college player at Colorado State, Dalton went to cross-state Colorado as an assistant for the 1971-72 seasons. He joined Denver in 1973, spending a year in the scouting department before moving to the coaching staff. Dalton's head coaching experience on the college level includes stints at Trinidad State Junior College from 1958-60 and Western State College from 1961-65.

Dalton, wife Mary Jane and daughter Meredith live in Lee's Summit.

TOM BRESNAHAN, Offensive Line Coach

Tom Bresnahan comes to Kansas City following eight years as offensive line coach at Navy. The 46-year-old Bresnahan was hired by George Welsh when Welsh took over the Naval Academy coaching responsibilities in 1973.

Bresnahan, a native of Springfield, Mass., graduated from Holy Cross University with a degree in economics and philosophy.

He began his coaching career on the high school level in Massachusetts, winning two championships along the way. His collegiate experience began in 1963 at Williams College, where he was offensive line coach, and also assisted with the wrestling and track programs. When Frank Navarro, who hired him at Williams, moved to Columbia as head coach in 1968, he brought Bresnahan with him as offensive coordinator and line coach. Bresnahan remained with the Lions until the spring of 1973, when he joined the Navy staff.

While at Navy, Bresnahan was director of the Midshipman weight training program and was the academy's chief recruiter in the western United States.

A two-year starter and letterman at tackle for Holy Cross, Bresnahan served in the U.S. Army for two years. During his tour, he was offensive line coach of the Fort Dix (N.J.) base team.

"I feel Tom's background in offensive line play is a welcome addition for our staff," says Mary Levy. "While at Navy, he was used to working with young offensive linemen, and he achieved the most possible from them. We hope he'll have the same results with the Chiefs."

Tom and wife Elaine are the parents of four children. Tom, Jr., 22, is a graduate of Holy Cross. Chuck, 20, is a junior at Navy, followed by Dan, 16; and Denise, 11. The family resides in Blue Springs.

FRANK GANSZ, Kicking Teams & Tight Ends Coach

One of three new faces on the '81 coaching staff belongs to Frank Gansz, who comes to the Chiefs from the Cincinnati Bengals. Kansas City is Gansz's third NFL assignment. He began his pro career as kicking teams coach for the San Francisco 49ers in 1978, then spent the next two years at Cincinnati in charge of kicking teams and tight ends.

A graduate of the U.S. Naval Academy, Gansz had widespread collegiate coaching experience before he moved into pro football. A center, guard and linebacker for the Midshipmen from 1957-59, Gansz played on Navy's 1958 Cotton Bowl team. After graduation, he served in the U.S. Air Force as a jet pilot from 1961-66. From 1964-66, he also coached at the Air Force Academy. Gansz was a commercial airline pilot in 1967-68 prior to resuming his coaching career at Colgate. He was an assistant at Navy from 1969-72, coached at Army in 1974, and in between was on the Oklahoma State staff in 1973 and 1975. His last college stop was UCLA, in 1976-77, before he went to San Francisco.

"Following two position changes within our staff, we were in need of a quality kicking teams coach," says Levy. "Fortunately, we were able to contact Frank and have him join us. His track record with kicking teams is a good one, and we ought to be able to continue to have the quality kicking game we have had in the past."

The 42-year-old Gansz and his wife Barbara have two children, Frank, Jr., 19; and Jennifer, 18. The Gansz family recently moved to the Lee's Summit area.

TED COTTRELL, Linebackers Coach

The Chiefs coaching staff expands by one this year with the addition of Ted Cottrell, who will work with the linebackers. The 33-year-old Cottrell comes to Kansas City from Rutgers, where he served last year as defensive coordinator.

A graduate of Delaware Valley College, Cottrell won all-league honors three seasons and was a seventh round draft pick of the Atlanta Falcons in 1969. He played the 1969-70 seasons at linebacker for the Falcons, then spent 1971-72 with the CFL Winnipeg Blue Bombers before moving into coaching.

Cottrell coached briefly at his alma mater before accepting a position as defensive line coach at Rutgers in 1973. He was named defensive coordinator prior to last season. While at Rutgers, Cottrell coached current Chiefs nose tackle Dino Mangiero.

"I feel Ted will be a solid addition to our staff," says Levy. "While we had sought to obtain a linebackers coach for some time, we decided to take our time and get the best man for the job. After I talked to Ted, I realized he was the right choice."

Cottrell and his wife Barbara have recently settled in the Kansas City area.

RICK ABERNETHY, Strength and Conditioning Coordinator

In charge of the Chiefs strength and conditioning program for the third year is 35-year-old Rick Abernethy, who joined the club prior to the 1979 season. A lifelong Kansas City resident, Abernethy played college football at Kansas University and was a member of KU's 1969 Orange Bowl team that met Penn State.

Following graduation, Abernethy taught and coached several sports at area high schools, notably Southwest, Southeast, Center and Ruskin.

"Rick has a very thorough overall background in strength and conditioning. His presence on the staff has been a tremendous asset to our program in developing the players on a year-round basis," says Levy.

Abernethy, wife Rita, a practicing attorney, and daughters Danielle, Stacy and Lindsay reside in Overland Park.

RON WALLER, Director of Pro Personnel

A man of many hats, Ron Waller keeps tabs on the daily personnel movements around pro football and also serves as the club's future game scout, analyzing upcoming Chiefs opponents on a weekly basis. His intimate knowledge of the various semi-professional leagues around the country has resulted in several free agent signings.

A native of Hastings, Fla., Waller served as head coach of the San Diego Chargers during the latter half of the 1973 season. He then was head coach of the WFL Philadelphia Bell in 1974-75 and was an assistant coach under former Notre Dame mentor Ara Parseghian for the final College All-Star Game. Waller came to Kansas City in 1978.

Waller played collegiately at Maryland, graduating with a degree in government and politics. He was a member of Maryland's 1953 national championship squad and earned All-America honors as a senior in 1954. The Los Angeles Rams made him a second round draft pick in 1955, and Waller played four seasons, earning a Pro Bowl selection. Prior to going to the Rams, Waller's College All-Star team defeated the defending NFL champion Cleveland Browns. His playing career ended in 1960 with the Los Angeles Chargers of the AFL.

He's had extensive coaching experience in the semipro football ranks, serving as head coach of the Atlantic Coast Football League Wilmington Clippers and Harrisburg Capitals from 1966-68. In '69, Waller directed the ACFL Pottstown Firebirds. He made contact that year with Mary Levy, then an assistant at Philadelphia. Pottstown won the league championship in both 1969 and '70; in '71, Waller won the ACFL crown with Norfolk prior to going with the Chargers as an assistant coach. The 48-year-old Waller makes his home in the Lakewood section of Lee's Summit.

WAYNE RUDY, Head Trainer

Wayne Rudy, the Chiefs popular head trainer, has been with the team ever since the formation of the American Football League in 1960. Recognized nationally as one of the foremost in his field, Wayne opens his 22nd season with the Texans/Chiefs. He's the only person in the organization who's seen every game, preseason, regular season and playoff, that the Chiefs have ever been involved in.

Rudy has served athletic teams over the past 36 years. A graduate of Bowling Green University, he was inducted into his alma mater's Hall of Fame in 1975. He also holds a master's degree from Southern Methodist University. Rudy was the SMU trainer for 13 years (1947-59) before signing on with the Dallas Texans. One of the athletes he served while at SMU was a seldom-used end named Lamar Hunt, who brought Rudy into pro football upon formation of his new team and league.

Wayne was one of the founders of the Southwest Athletic Trainers Association and twice has been a national director of the National Athletic Trainers Association. He has received countless awards in the training field and in 1974 was named to the Helms Athletic Hall of Fame.

Wayne and his wife, Joan, live in Overland Park.

Wayne's capable assistant is DAVE KENDALL, now in his seventh season. Kendall graduated from Kansas State College at Pittsburg with a degree in physical education. He served as assistant trainer at Pittsburg State. Kendall is a member of the National Athletic Trainers Association. Dave and wife Jackie live in Blue Springs. Dave's father-in-law, Jack Christiansen, is an assistant coach with the Seattle Seahawks.

BOBBY YARBOROUGH, Equipment Manager

Bobby Yarborough has been the Chiefs equipment manager the past 21 years. He attended the University of Texas where as student trainer his interest in behind-the-scenes athletics was developed by his association with longtime Longhorns trainer Frank Medina.

Bobby is a member of the board of directors and a member of the organizing committee of the Athletic Equipment Managers Association. He has served in the past as convention chairman for that group's annual meeting when it has been held in Kansas City.

Yarborough also served previously as organizer and director of a Chiefs off-season basketball team that helped raise over a half million dollars for charities throughout the Midwest.

The Yarborough family lives at Lake Winnebago.

DR. H. ELLFELDT DR. ALBERT MILLER DAVE KENDALL
Orthopedic Specialist Team Physician Assistant Trainer

PLAYER PERSONNEL STAFF

LES MILLER

The 44-year-old Miller is a native of Bernice, Oklahoma. He attended Oklahoma State University, then graduated from Kansas State College at Pittsburg with an education degree in 1958. For the next 13 years, Les coached at the high school and college level. He was the head football, basketball and baseball coach at Afton (Okla.) High School from 1958-60 and then coached baseball and football at two Tulsa high schools before accepting a position in private business.

Miller returned to coaching in 1967 as head football coach at Joplin (Mo.) High School. After two seasons, he was named an assistant coach at Brigham Young University in charge of offensive backs until the Dolphins named him to their scouting staff in 1972.

An avid baseball fan, Miller spent two seasons, 1954-55, as a third baseman and outfielder in the New York Yankees farm system.

Les and his wife Joyce have two married children, Mike, 25; and Debbie, 23; in addition to Marty, 12; and Matt, 9. The Millers live in Overland Park.

J. D. HELM, Assistant Director of Player Personnel

J. D. Helm, 40, an associate of Les Miller's since both were in the assistant coaching ranks together, last season was named the Chiefs assistant director of player personnel. As such Helm is responsible for assisting Miller in all phases of the scouting operation, including scheduling, coverage and overall evaluation of collegiate talent.

A native of El Dorado Springs, Missouri, Helm graduated from Kansas University. He coached two years, 1966-67, at Shawnee Mission East High School, then in 1968 moved to Brigham Young University as a freshman assistant. He was elevated to the varsity in 1969, tutoring running backs and receivers.

It was while at BYU that Helm and Miller worked together. Miller left the Cougars after the 1971 season to join the Miami personnel department, but Helm remained in Provo through 1974. After Miller was named director of player personnel in 1975, he quickly added Helm to his staff.

J. D. and wife Elizabeth live in Overland Park.

BOBBY GILL, Talent Scout

A veteran coach in the college ranks, Bobby Gill begins his seventh season on the player personnel staff. The 45-year-old Gill attended Baylor University in his hometown of Waco, Texas. He began his coaching career at Ouachita Baptist in 1958. His next stop was Houston, where he coached under Bill Yeoman from 1962 through 1966.

In 1967, he was named offensive coordinator at Tulsa. New Mexico State hired him, again as offensive coordinator, in 1969, and Gill was with the Aggies through the '71 season. Gill coached at Texas El Paso in 1972-73 and spent the 1974 season with the Detroit Wheels of the now-defunct World Football League. He joined the Chiefs player personnel staff in 1975.

Bobby and his wife, Barbara, live in Overland Park. Barbara is the women's basketball coach at Johnson County Community College.

TOMMY O'BOYLE, Talent Scout

Tommy O'Boyle has been a member of the Chiefs family for the past 15 years. He came to Kansas City in 1966, serving as a talent scout and as an assistant coach under Hank Stram. When Les Miller was hired to reorganize the scouting department in 1975, he added O'Boyle to his staff, solely in the personnel field.

A graduate of Tulane University, O'Boyle was an All-America performer and a number one draft choice of the Chicago Bears in 1940. He did not play pro football; instead, he began his coaching career at his alma mater. O'Boyle later was head coach and athletic director at Southwest Missouri State. He then served as line coach at Kansas State, Duke and Miami (Fla.) before returning to Tulane as an assistant in 1960.

In 1962, O'Boyle was named head coach of the Green Wave. He held that post through the 1965 season, then joined the Chiefs the following year.

Tommy and his wife Rose Mary, are the parents of five children. They live in Kansas City.

OTIS TAYLOR, Talent Scout

Otis Taylor, a record-setting wide receiver on the Chiefs teams of the 1960s and 70s, begins his fourth year on Les Miller's staff.

Taylor, 38, was Kansas City's fourth round draft choice in 1965 from Prairie View. The former All-America is currently the leading pass receiver in Chiefs history with 410 receptions for 7,306 yards, also a club record. Otis holds another Kansas City standard with a career-high 60 touchdowns.

The club's leading receiver in five of his 10 Kansas City campaigns, Otis's one-year high was 59 in 1967. He established a single-season yardage figure of 1,297 in 1966 which still stands.

Taylor makes his home in Kansas City.

College: Michigan State

NFL Experience: 7

Birthdate: August 12, 1952

Birthplace: Los Angeles, California

Residence: Honolulu, Hawaii

For the past 90 regular season games, Ane has capably handled the club's deep snap chores . . . He's appeared in every game over the last six seasons as the snapper on punts and kicking plays, as well as backing up regular center Jack Rudnay . . . Started two games early last year while Rudnay was on injured reserve the first month of the season . . . Ane now has three career starts, the first coming in relief of Rudnay in 1976 . . . During his first camp, he reported as the fourth of five centers, but his snap abilities won him the role he's maintained ever since . . . Ane's familiarity with the center position goes back to his childhood as his father, Charlie, snapped for the Detroit Lions during the 1950s . . . Uses the Hawaiian pronunciation of his last name, Ah-nay . . . One of three Chiefs (Arnold Morgado, Paul Dombroski the others) residing in Hawaii during the off-season . . . Attended Punahoa H.S. in Honolulu . . . A nickname is Kali, Hawaiian for Charlie . . . Full name: Charles T. Ane . . . Married, wife Patricia.

GARY BARBARO • 26

How Acquired: Draft (No. 3c-1976)

College: Nicholls State

NFL Experience: 6

Birthdate: February 11, 1954

Birthplace: New Orleans, Louisiana

Residence: Metairie, Louisiana

Barbaro recorded one of the best-ever seasons in Chiefs' defensive history, earning all-NFL recognition in the process . . . For the second year in a row, he finished second in AFC interceptions (to Oakland's Lester Hayes, who had 12) with a personal career high 10 . . . Hayes and Barbaro were also one-two in overall NFL totals . . . Barbaro ended the year by being selected to the AFC Pro Bowl team along with teammates Art Still and J. T. Smith, giving Kansas City its largest contingent in the postseason contest since 1976 . . . Half of Barbaro's interceptions came in the final quarter of the season, when he picked off two vs. Cincinnati, then one each in the last three games of the year . . . Also had a pair of interceptions in the Chiefs' win at Oakland that broke an 0-4 season-opening start . . . In just his sixth NFL season, he is the dean of Chiefs' defenders in terms of experience . . . With 31 career interceptions, Barbaro ranks fourth on the club's alltime list . . . He passed the retired Bobby Bell and Willie Lanier in 1980 and directly in front of him is Bobby Hunt, with 37 . . . His 10 seasonal interceptions are second-best (tie) in club annals behind Emmitt Thomas's 12 in 1974 . . . Barbaro is fourth overall in return yardage with 589 yards, trailing Thomas, Johnny Robinson and Hunt . . . His 163 return yards last year are also fourth best for one season, but only second-highest in his career behind the 165 in 1977 . . . Barbaro has led Kansas City in interceptions in three of the last four seasons . . . He holds the club record, and is a co-holder of the NFL record, for longest interception return of 102 yards . . . That came in 1977 off Jim Zorn of Seattle and tied a league mark set previously by Bob Smith (Detroit, 1949 vs. Chicago Bears) and Erich Barnes (N.Y. Giants, 1961 vs. Dallas) . . . He has now played 76 consecutive games as a starter at free safety . . . He's had unusual success against San Diego, with seven of his 31 steals at the Chargers' expense . . . Ken Stabler has also been a favorite as four of Barbaro's thefts have come off him, including a 70-yard touchdown in 1979 . . . In addition to his Pro Bowl nomination, Barbaro was named to the all-AFC team in 1980 as selected by United Press International . . . He was fifth among Chiefs tacklers with 79 stops, 51 unassisted and recovered one opponent fumble . . . Barbaro became a starter almost from the day he reported to his first training camp; the incumbent, Mike Sensibaugh, had already been traded away . . . He was among the first varsity football graduates of Nicholls State . . . He played wide receiver there in 1973, then was moved to the secondary in 1974-75 . . . Played cornerback both years and intercepted nine passes overall . . . Barbaro played only one year of football at East Jefferson H.S. in Metairie, La., concentrating before that on trombone as a member of the band . . . Majored in physical education . . . Interests include hunting, fishing and working on automobiles . . . Full name: Gary Wayne Barbaro . . . Married, wife Karen, one child.

Beckman's contributions to the Chiefs aren't measured in pass receiving figures, but rather in the many minute, non-statistical areas that comprise kicking teams play . . . He's captained the kicking teams the last three years, and in 1980 made a strong comeback from a knee injury and subsequent surgery that knocked him out of the latter half of the '79 season . . . He picked up his second punt block in as many seasons last year when he knocked down a Mike Bragg attempt vs. Baltimore; his initial block was in 1979 at Seattle when he turned a Herman Weaver kick into a Chiefs touchdown on the next play from scrimmage . . . Had 14 tackles, 11 unassisted, last year to give him a career total of 35 stops, all on kick coverage . . . He also recovered an opponent fumble and is used extensively on third down and short yardage situations when an extra blocker is required . . . Beckman was passed over in the 1977 draft and requested a tryout; it was his play on the specialty units that enabled him to make the club that year as a free agent . . . Has a career total of three pass receptions . . . Also returned three kickoffs last year as the "up" man on the coverage team . . . Has played in the last 16 games . . . Attended South Miami Senior H.S. . . . Interests include sailing and golf . . . Majored in criminology . . . Full name: Edwin Jay Beckman . . . Married, wife Kim.

MIKE BELL • 99

Defensive End Ht: 6-4 Wt: 255

How Acquired: Draft (No. 1a-1979)

College: Colorado State

NFL Experience: 2

Birthdate: August 30, 1957

Birthplace: Wichita, Kansas

Residence: Overland Park, Kansas

A healthy Mike Bell would be a tremendous addition to the Kansas City defense . . . That's one of the keys, according to coach Marv Levy, as Bell enters his third training camp . . . He played in only 1½ regular season games last year before giving way to an unusual injury; a bicep muscle in the shoulder area separated from the bone as Bell was rushing the passer vs. Seattle. He continued to play in the game, but later came out and, on the advice of physicians, underwent surgery to repair the injury and prevent any further deterioration . . . The surgery, though, meant the end of his '80 season, so Bell is determined to make this an injury-free year . . . Bell was the second player selected in the 1979 draft . . . He'd had knee surgery during his senior year at Colorado State, but recovered fully from that prior to the draft . . . During his rookie season, he appeared in 11 of 16 regular season games, missing five games at midseason due to a knee strain . . . He ranked third on the club in quarterback sacks with 5½ for 46 yards in losses; also totaled 35 tackles, 22 unassisted . . . Had 1½ sacks for 10½ yards in losses during his short stint in '80 and accounted for eight tackles . . . He was the second defensive end (Art Still the first) to be chosen in as many years by Kansas City on the opening round; both Bell and Still were the second players taken in their respective draft classes . . . Bell, in fact, was the first '79 draftee to play in the NFL as top choice Tom Cousineau (by Buffalo) elected to play with Montreal in the CFL . . . Bell's late-season '78 injury at Colorado State precluded him from playing in any of the postseason all-star games for which he'd been selected . . . Over his last two years at CSU, he rang up 26 sacks, 15 as a junior, 11 as a senior, and had 36 overall in four years . . . A second team All-America selection by Associated Press & United Press International and The Sporting News named him to its first team . . . Bell was a unanimous all-Western Athletic Conference choice his last two college seasons . . . His twin brother, Mark, is a tight end for the Seattle Seahawks . . . Due to his playing virtually not at all in 1980, Bell's NFL experience column is still listed as his second year . . . Interests include hunting and golf . . . Attended Bishop Carroll H.S. . . . Majored in business . . . Shares his lakeside residence during the season with quarterback Steve Fuller . . . Full name: Mike J. Bell . . . Single.

HORACE BELTON • 35

How Acquired: Free Agent

College: Southeastern Louisiana

NFL Experience: 4

Birthdate: July 16, 1955

Birthplace: Baton Rouge, Louisiana

Residence: Blue Springs, Missouri

Belton's 1980 season almost didn't begin, but it turned out to be his most productive ever . . . With several last-minute personnel decisions still to be made, the Chiefs waived Belton prior to opening day, hoping he wouldn't be claimed by another club; he was not, and was re-signed by Kansas City in time for the second game, and from then on, Belton's role was more versatile than it had ever been in three years . . . He appeared in 14 games overall, and had four midseason starts at halfback . . . His opening start proved to be his best rushing day of the year with 12 carries for 47 yards in the Chiefs win over Detroit; he also had his longest career pass reception that day when he took a screen pass from Steve Fuller and romped 55 yards to set up a touchdown . . . Belton finished third on the club in rushing with 273 yards, surpassing by 60 yards the combined total of his first two years . . . Also returned six kickoffs; in '79, he was the leading kick returner with 22, but relinquished those duties to the speedier Carlos Carson last year . . . Devotion to kicking teams duty has been a Belton trademark in addition to his reserve role in the backfield . . . He reported to the Chiefs as a free agent in 1978, but had previously played for Marv Levy in 1977 at Montreal. Played on the Grey Cup champion Alouettes that year and Levy says his club wouldn't have won the title if Belton had not been there to play a key role . . . He was the last cut at Houston in '77, then moved north to the CFL . . . Started three years at Southeastern Louisiana, rushing for 1,061 yards . . . Majored in law . . . Attended Scotlandville H.S. in Baton Rouge . . . Full name: Horace Belton . . . Married, wife Gwen.

JERRY BLANTON • 57

Linebacker Ht: 6-1 Wt: 236

How Acquired: Free Agent

College: Kentucky

NFL Experience: 3

Birthdate: December 20, 1956

Birthplace: Toledo, Ohio

Residence: Toledo, Ohio

Primarily a kicking teams performer, Blanton started the final three games of last year for Frank Manumaleuna at left inside linebacker . . . He's also had experience at the outside positions and will contend for a starting job both places . . . Blanton has now appeared in 32 consecutive games after making the club as a '79 free agent . . . Spent all of that year as a backup to Whitney Paul on the outside, but his versatility and knowledge of both slots have been valuable . . . Blanton was the club's top kicking teams performer during 1979 . . . Finished '80 with 39 total tackles, 22 unassisted . . . Blanton was a college teammate of Art Still at Kentucky and played with Still on the defensive line . . . He was drafted on the 11th round by Buffalo in 1978 . . . After his release, he played briefly with Hamilton of the CFL before reporting to the Chiefs in 1979 . . . Majored in criminology . . . Attended DeVilbiss H.S. in Toledo . . . Full name: Jerry Blanton . . . Single.

BRAD BUDDE • 66

Guard Ht: 6-4 Wt: 255

How Acquired: Draft (No. 1-1980)

College: Southern California

NFL Experience: 2

Birthdate: May 9, 1958

Birthplace: Detroit, Michigan

Residence: Overland Park, Kansas

Kansas City's top draft choice last year started three games, played in 16 overall, and indicated he could become a fixture for seasons to come . . . Chiefs coaches brought Budde along more slowly than observers thought they would, but look for him to make a larger contribution with a year's experience behind him . . . The son of former Chiefs guard Ed Budde (1963-76), Brad, as was his dad, came to the Chiefs as a first round selection; the 11th player chosen, it marked the first time in pro football history that a father and son had been drafted on the first round by the same team . . . Brad started at guard in the second Oakland game, then opened in the final two games of the year when Bob Simmons stepped in at tackle for the injured Matt Herkenhoff . . . He was a four-year starter at Southern California and was the first freshman to start for the Trojans since World War II . . . The only player through 1979 to start all four years at Southern Cal, Budde was a first team All-America selection by Associated Press, United Press International, Newspaper Enterprise Assn., The Sporting News, Football News and the Football Writers of America his senior year; in addition, he was UPI's choice as offensive lineman of the year . . . A three-time all-Pacific 10 selection, Budde became only the second offensive lineman to win the Lombardi Award . . . During his four USC seasons, the Trojans went to the Rose Bowl three times and won all three games . . . Budde was a high school All-America at Rockhurst H.S. in Kansas City, where he played both offense and defense. As a youngster, he served as a water boy at the Chiefs Liberty training camp and frequently accompanied his father to workouts both in- and off-season . . . Surprised his father by being on-hand in Arrowhead when Ed played his final game in 1976 . . . Majored in public administration . . . Wore his father's number, 71, during most of his college career, but selected No. 66 with the Chiefs since 71 was already taken by veteran Dave Lindstrom . . . Full name: Brad Edward Budde . . . Married, wife Nicolette.

CARLOS CARSON • 88

Wide Receiver Ht: 5-10 Wt: 172

How Acquired: Draft (No. 5a-1980)

College: Louisiana State

NFL Experience: 2

Birthdate: December 28, 1958

Birthplace: Lake Worth, Florida

Residence: Baton Rouge, Louisiana

One of four members of the '80 draft class to make the roster, Carson's main responsibility last year was kickoff returns . . . He finished fifth in the AFC with a 22.9 average on 40 returns and he was only one shy of tying Noland Smith (1967) for the most returns in one season . . . His 917 yardage total was second in team history to Smith's '67 total of 1,148 yards . . . If Carson continues to return kickoffs, he stands to be among the club's alltime leaders if he duplicates his 1980 efforts . . . It is as a receiver, however, that the Chiefs hope he'll develop into the team's home run threat . . . He possesses outstanding speed, which was evidenced several times last year on the kick return team . . . Had a long of 47 yards in the season finale at Baltimore . . . Caught five passes for 68 yards with a high of two for 22 vs. Cincinnati . . . Carson was the 114th player selected a year ago on a choice obtained from Baltimore . . . Caught a total of 89 passes in three varsity seasons at LSU, bursting into prominence as a sophomore . . . He set school records in 1977 by scoring five touchdowns and 30 points in a five-catch, 201-yard effort vs. Rice; caught another touchdown pass the following week to set an NCAA record for consecutive passes caught for touchdowns . . . Had a school record 10 scoring passes that year and 14 overall . . . He was named SEC back of the week by Associated Press following the record-setting day vs. Rice . . . Also earned second team all-SEC honors following his sophomore year . . . Played in the 1979 Tangerine Bowl with the Tigers, catching three passes for 76 yards, and also competed in the Hula and Japan Bowl all-star games . . . Majored in physical education . . . Attended Leonard H.S. in Lake Worth, Fla. . . . Full name: Carlos A. Carson . . . Married, wife Wilma.

A starter during portions of his two Kansas City seasons, Carter is mending from knee surgery that restricted him to only seven games a year ago . . . He opened the first two games at right cornerback before being supplanted by Eric Harris, then backed up Harris the rest of the season's first half before he was placed on injured reserve . . . Rest failed to alleviate the knee problem, so Carter underwent surgery and spent the winter and spring in rehabilitation . . . A free agent signee in 1979, Carter took a starting job away from the now-departed Tim Collier midway through that year and held on to it prior to Harris's arrival . . . Had two interceptions in the Chiefs '79 win at Oakland and has three overall . . . Football Digest named him to its all-rookie team two years ago . . . He went undrafted following his senior year, signing with Los Angeles as a free agent in 1978; he was released prior to the regular season, then signed with Kansas City and was a product of the club's off-season free agent program . . . Majored in physical education . . . Attended Monterey H.S. in Monterey, Calif. . . . Full name: Milton Louis Carter . . . Bears a strong facial resemblance to world heavyweight champion Larry Holmes . . . Married, wife Gail.

Christopher has started the last 22 games at strong safety and in 1980 had his best-ever year . . . He maintained his starting job in spite of a training camp challenge and went on to open every game last year, intercepting two passes in the process . . . Began his NFL odyssey as a free agent with Denver in 1978, but was released . . . He signed with Kansas City for 1979, was released again, then re-signed when starter Jerry Reese was lost for the year with a midseason knee injury . . . Christopher appeared in nine games overall that year, starting the final six . . . Finished sixth among defenders a year ago with 78 total stops, 53 unassisted . . . Attended Magnolia H.S. in Thomasville, Ga. . . . Majored in physical education . . . Full name: Herbert Christopher . . . Single.

TOM CONDON • 65

Guard Ht: 6-3 Wt: 272

How Acquired: Draft (No. 10-1974)

College: Boston College

NFL Experience: 8

Birthdate: October 26, 1952

Birthplace: Derby, Connecticut

Residence: Kansas City, Missouri

Condon currently has the longest consecutive games streak of any Chiefs offensive lineman . . . With starts in every game a year ago, he has now opened in 72 straight contests at right guard and has played in every game from 1976 on . . . He had one of his best seasons in 1980, and was the only interior lineman to play every game at his position . . . Condon's experience and leadership were especially valuable early in the year when Jack Rudnay was lost with a hamstring injury, then later on when injuries struck the line on a regular basis . . . Condon made the team in 1974 as a special teams performer, then graduated to starting status the following year . . . A midseason knee injury that required surgery ended his '75 season after eight games, but he's remained in good health ever since . . . Over the years, Condon has battled several of the NFL's finest defensive tackles, notably San Diego's Louie Kelcher, Baltimore's Mike Barnes, Pittsburgh's Joe Greene and Lyle Alzado of Denver and Cleveland . . . A consistent dean's list scholar as an undergraduate at Boston College, Condon devoted the past five off-seasons and considerable in-season time to law school, and he recently graduated from the University of Missouri-Kansas City . . . He also attended University of Baltimore law school in the past . . . He came to BC without a scholarship, but went from 190 pounds to 220 and won a starting guard slot as a sophomore . . . Majored in sociology and philosophy . . . A regular on the weights, Condon spends much off-season time in the weight room as well as the classroom . . . Attended Notre Dame H.S. in West Haven, Conn. . . . Full name: Thomas J. Condon . . . Married, wife Virginia, one child.

Dixon has performed in parts of the last two Chiefs seasons . . . He appeared in 12 games as a reserve last year after being re-signed following the waiver of starter Tony Samuels . . . Dixon first came to Kansas City in 1979, signing for the final three games of the season and starting in one . . . He was let go during '80 training camp, but returned for three quarters of regular season action . . . Caught seven passes, the second-highest of his career, for 115 yards and a touchdown . . . That came at Denver and pulled the Chiefs within a point of the Broncos in a game they would come from behind to win . . . Dixon is expected to compete for a starter's role as Mike Williams, the starter most of last year, is being returned to the offensive backfield . . . Dixon was drafted on the seventh round by the New York Giants . . . A knee injury hampered him as a rookie, but he won the starting tight end job with the Giants in 1978 and had his best year ever with 18 catches . . . The Giants let him go early in the '79 regular season . . . Dixon was a three-year letterman in football at Iowa State and was a second team all-Big Eight selection as a senior . . . Also lettered twice in varsity basketball and once in baseball, the only Cyclone athlete to earn letters in three major sports the entire time he was in school . . . Majored in child psychology . . . Attended East St. Louis H.S. in East St. Louis, Illinois and was the first in his high school's history to win all-state recognition in both football and basketball . . . Attends to his own insurance agency in the off-season . . . Full name: Albert D. Dixon . . . Single.

Dombroski first came to the Chiefs' attention via running back Arnold Morgado . . . Morgado conducted an off-season tryout camp in Hawaii, hoping to interest the club in several hopefuls as free agents . . . He steered Dombroski to the camp, and Dombroski and another player were signed and reported to the Chiefs' minicamp . . . Dombroski survived both the minicamp and then training camp to win a roster slot as a backup cornerback and strong safety . . . He also was used extensively in situations that called for a fifth defensive back . . . Had one interception in the closing minutes of the Chiefs' first win of the year, at Oakland . . . He appeared in all 16 games and started the season finale at Baltimore in place of the injured Eric Harris . . . Dombroski began his college career at Hawaii, but transferred to Linfield (Ore.) College, a Division II school . . . Most of Dombroski's first-year duties included backing up Gary Green at left corner, Herb Christopher at strong safety and performing on the kicking teams . . . Accounted for 22 tackles, 18 unassisted . . . He was bypassed in the '79 draft, then returned to Hawaii and coached football and basketball on the high school level . . . Dombroski also sent letters to the 28 NFL teams requesting a tryout for the '80 season . . . He was one of 13 pure free agents—those who weren't drafted or spent time in another camp—to make a league roster at the beginning of last season . . . Majored in physical education . . . Attended Leilehua H.S. in Wahiawa, Hawaii . . . Full name: Paul Matthew Dombroski . . . Single.

STEVE FULLER • 4

Quarterback Ht: 6-4 Wt: 198

How Acquired: Draft (No. 1b-1979)

College: Clemson

NFL Experience: 3

Birthdate: January 5, 1957

Birthplace: Enid, Oklahoma

Residence: Spartanburg, South Carolina

With the quarterback job firmly in hand entering the 1980 season, Fuller finished the year as the AFC's fourth-rated quarterback, trailing Brian Sipe, Dan Fouts and Craig Morton . . . Starting the first 13 games, Fuller improved in every offensive category over his rookie year.

He missed the last three contests after undergoing arthroscopic knee surgery to correct torn cartilage . . . Fuller was initially injured at San Diego, then underwent surgery with two weeks left in the season . . . His top passing output on the year was a 19-of-26, 223-yard, 2-touchdown showing at Seattle that resulted in a Chiefs win . . . He also surpassed 200 yards passing vs. St. Louis (18-32-222-1 TD) and vs. Baltimore (15-29-216) . . . Also had a big day in the Chiefs come-from-behind win over Houston; Fuller completed 11 of 18 for 148 yards and a touchdown, but it was his running that beat the Oilers. He scrambled for a 38-yard touchdown, the club's longest run from scrimmage all season, that provided the winning margin in a 21-20 decision . . . He was the second-leading rusher on the team, carrying 60 times for 274 yards and four touchdowns . . . In the 25 games Fuller has started in two years, Kansas City has won 12 . . . From a 6-14 touchdowns to interceptions ratio as a rookie, Fuller improved to 10-12 last season with three of the errant throws coming in the season opener . . . Overall, Fuller played in 14 games a year ago, 13 as the starter and once as a holder prior to his surgery . . . As a rookie, he played in 14 of 16, two as a holder, the others as either the starter or reliever . . . His longest pass completion of the season was a new personal high, 77 yards to J. T. Smith, vs. Baltimore . . . All told, Fuller accounted for 14 Chiefs touchdowns, passing for 10 and running for four more . . . Fuller made his NFL debut in spectacular fashion in 1979 . . . In the second game of that year, he relieved vs. Cleveland, inheriting a 20-0 deficit. In the space of 16 minutes during the second half, Fuller rallied the Chiefs from 20 points down to a 24-20 lead, only to see Cleveland win by three in the closing minutes . . . From that point on, Fuller began to establish himself as the club's quarterback, pitching the team to victory in six of the 12 games he started in '79 . . . His first NFL touchdown pass was a 17-yard strike to J. T. Smith in the Cleveland comeback . . . Fuller was the 23rd player selected in the opening round of the 1979 draft . . . He was taken by Kansas City as the result of a draft-day transaction in which the Chiefs traded their 1979 and 1980 No. 2 selections to Houston in exchange for the Oilers top pick in '79 . . . With the choices, Houston selected DT Mike Stensrud (Iowa State) and T Angelo Fields (Michigan State) . . . Fuller was the Atlantic Coast Conference player of the year in both 1977 and '78 at Clemson . . . In his senior year, he took the Tigers to an 11-1 record and a 17-15 victory over Ohio State in the Gator Bowl . . . For his college career, Fuller completed 287 of 554 passes for 4,359 yards, 22 touchdowns and 21 interceptions . . . He rushed 535 times for 1,737 yards and 22 more scores . . . Holds Clemson records for 4,359 yards passing in four years and a single-season high of 1,655 as a junior . . . He earned honorable mention All-America honors from The Sporting News and was a third team All-America choice by Associated Press . . . Finished sixth in 1978 Heisman Trophy balloting . . . Led the ACC in total offense in '78 with 2,164 yards, setting a new Clemson record . . . Fuller was a candidate for a Rhodes Scholarship before removing his name from consideration to concentrate on a pro football career . . . Majored in history . . . Interests include golf . . . Attended Spartanburg H.S. in Spartanburg, S.C., where he graduated as class valedictorian . . . Full name: Stephen Ray Fuller . . . Single.

Gant was restricted to reserve roles in only four games last season before giving way to a knee cartilage injury that required surgery . . . He was injured at Oakland and did not play any further after carrying just nine times for 32 yards . . . His high was five carries for 14 yards at Cleveland . . . Also caught nine passes in spot duty and will be one of a number of backfield candidates looking for regular work in 1981 . . . Gant had entered the '80 campaign on an upbeat note, having finished strongly his rookie year . . . When injuries hit the backfield late in '79, Gant put together back-to-back strong December outings, carrying for 72 yards in one game and 67 in another . . . He was Missouri's leading ballcarrier as both a junior and senior, gaining 769 yards in 1977 and 789 the following year . . . Alltime collegiate high was 157 yards vs. Illinois, but also had a 149-yard day vs. Oklahoma as a senior . . . Majored in education . . . Attended Manuel H.S. in Peoria, Illinois . . . Full name: Earl Leon Gant . . . Single.

Garcia opened training camp by pulling a hamstring muscle so severely that he wasn't available for duty until the latter portion of the regular season . . . He was placed on injured reserve in July, then activated in mid-November . . . His first game action came at St. Louis on Nov. 23 . . . Garcia caught his first NFL touchdown two weeks later vs. Denver on a pass from Bill Kenney . . . In five games, Garcia had three receptions for 27 yards . . . He'll be a candidate for starting duty in '81 . . . He came to the Chiefs as the 147th player selected in last year's draft . . . Played three varsity seasons at UTEP, catching 93 passes in leading the team his sophomore and junior seasons . . . Played in a run-oriented offense as a senior, thus catch output dropped to seven all year . . . A two-time selection on the all-Western Athletic Conference team . . . Also returned punts during collegiate career . . . Majored in physical education . . . Attended New Braunfels H.S. in New Braunfels, Texas . . . Full name: Jesse Clarence Garcia . . . Getty might well be excused if he chose to forget the entire '80 campaign . . . Two separate injuries restricted him to only six games . . . The first, a knee strain in training camp, put him out of action most of preseason and the first four weeks of the regular season . . . Upon his return, Getty reclaimed a starting position at right tackle, but after six games suffered a freak accident that ended his season . . . While warming up in the end zone prior to the Chiefs game at San Diego, Getty accidentally collided with wide receiver Stan Rome, who was running a pass pattern . . . The mishap resulted in a broken nose and hospitalization in San Diego for Getty . . . Doctors encountered difficulty in keeping his nose from bleeding, so the veteran lineman finally underwent surgery to correct the problem . . . Getty was placed on injured reserve a second time, and remained there for the duration of the season . . . Once again, he will bid for duty along the offensive line, where he has been both a starter and reserve over the past seven seasons . . .

His versatility at both guard and tackle, plus his overall knowledge of interior line play, have made him a key performer . . . Getty reported to Kansas City as a second round draftee in '74 . . . His first starting assignment was at left guard, then tackle, his first three seasons . . . He relinquished the guard slot to Bob Simmons in 1977, then backed up at tackle before working his way back into the starting lineup the following year . . . Prior to the injuries last year, Getty had not missed a game since 1974 . . . Getty started for two seasons under Joe Paterno at Penn State, playing right tackle in three consecutive Nittany Lions bowl appearances (Cotton in 1972, Sugar in '73, Orange in '74) . . . Also an outstanding collegiate wrestler, he finished fifth in the '73 NCAA championships, improving to third in '74 meet . . . Majored in physical education and recreation . . . Played football, wrestled and competed on the track team at Pompton Lakes H.S. in Pompton Lakes, N.J. . . . Getty is extremely active in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and devotes numerous in- and off-season hours speaking on behalf of church and youth groups in the greater Kansas City area and around the country . . . Also has a daily radio show on station KCNW in Kansas City and has done television work . . . Full name: Charles Matthew Getty . . . Married, wife Carol.

GARY GREEN • 24

Cornerback Ht: 5-11 Wt: 184

How Acquired: Draft (No. 1-1977)

College: Baylor

NFL Experience: 5

Birthdate: October 22, 1955

Birthplace: San Antonio, Texas

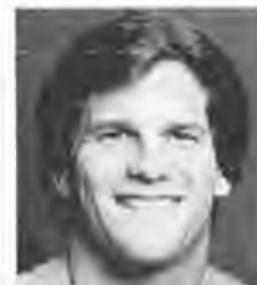

Residence: San Antonio, Texas

An indication of how well Green plays his position lies in how seldom opposing quarterbacks throw in his area . . . Intercepted two passes last year, running his career total to 11, and got them in consecutive games vs. Baltimore and at Seattle . . . Over the last four seasons, Green has taken on the NFL's best wide receivers, notably John Jefferson (San Diego), Lynn Swann (Pittsburgh), Cliff Branch (Oakland), Steve Largent (Seattle) and Roger Carr (Baltimore) . . . His 45 tackles last year included 36 unassisted stops . . . One of the most versatile athletes on the Chiefs squad, Green's play on the kicking teams practically matches his prowess on defense . . . He was the only player to record a blocked conversion, punt and field goal attempt in 1980 . . . The punt block at Baltimore helped set up a Chiefs touchdown in a game Kansas City won to even out an 8-8 record . . . Ever since he reported as a number one draft choice five years ago, Green has rapidly become one of the NFL's dominant corners and, teamed with Eric Harris, gives the Chiefs one of the top corner combinations in pro football . . . Green has started the last 48 games at left corner after appearing in 11 of 14 games his first year . . . The 10th player selected in '77, Green was voted the Mack Lee Hill Award as the club's outstanding rookie . . . Indicative of the type of athletes in the Chiefs defensive backfield is the fact that Green, Harris and Gary Barbaro each has been the top first-year performer over the last five seasons . . . The last cornerback taken on the first round prior to Green's selection had been Jim Marsalis in 1969 . . . Green's interception high came in 1979, when he picked off five . . . Football Digest accorded him all-pro recognition following last season.

Green received first-team All-America honors from virtually every quarter as a senior at Baylor . . . Played in the Shrine East-West Game and the Senior Bowl, returning a punt 65 yards for a touchdown in the latter contest . . . Prior to the full-time usage of J. T. Smith on the punt team the last two years, Green had handled some of those chores himself . . . Majored in physical education, though he also has a minor in speech/radio-television . . . Represented the Chiefs in the 1981 televised United Way message . . . Attended Sam Houston H.S. in San Antonio . . . Full name: Gary F. Green . . . Single.

Grupp's overall numbers did not match his Pro Bowl season of the previous year, but he continued to be one of the league's best placement punters . . . He was first in the AFC and second in the NFL in number of punts inside the 20-yard line, 23, while finishing ninth in AFC average at 39.5 . . . Improved his number of touchback kicks from 11 to eight . . . His single-game '80 best came vs. Baltimore, six kicks for a 45.3 average with a long of 55 . . . Grupp also had a 45.0 showing in the season opener and a 43.6 figure at San Diego . . . Slumped a bit over the first half of the season, but came on later to record higher per-game average and greater number of kicks downed inside the 20 . . . His 84 seasonal punts were third highest in team history; Grupp set the record a year ago with 89 attempts . . . He had nine boots of 50 yards or more and usually saved these efforts for times when his team was pinned deep in its own end zone or territory . . . Grupp's 1979 season was one of the NFL's Cinderella stories . . . After failing to make the New York Jets on two separate tries, Grupp signed with Kansas City and ousted incumbent Zenon Andrusyshyn . . . In his first league game, he set a club record with 11 punts for 511 yards and a 46.4 average vs. Baltimore . . . That performance shot him into the NFL punting lead, a distinction he never relinquished the remainder of the season . . . He crowned his first season by being named to the AFC Pro Bowl squad, the first Chief so honored since Jack Rudnay had appeared in the 1977 contest (1976 season) . . . In receiving the Pro Bowl bid, Grupp broke a six-year Ray Guy hold on the AFC punting job; it was the first time before or since in Guy's career that he was not named to the postseason all-star game . . . Has now appeared in 32 straight games . . . Grupp was a seventh round draft choice of the Jets in 1977 . . . After failing to make the grade his first time, he migrated briefly to Calgary of the CFL, but a shoulder injury curtailed the rest of that year . . . He tried out again with New York in '78, strictly as a punter this time, but failed to unseat Chuck Ramsay . . . Grupp credits his transformation from a three-step punter to two steps as a major factor in his making the grade after two misses . . . He learned the two-step technique from retired punter Ray Pelfrey and Grupp has spent several weeks visiting Pelfrey each off-season to work on his form and mechanics . . . He was an overwhelming choice for the Mack Lee Hill Award as the team's outstanding rookie in '79 . . . Also a first team selection by Pro Football Weekly and was that publication's choice for its "Golden Toe" award, presented to the top kicking specialist each year . . . A second-team all-NFL choice by Associated Press in '79 and United Press International named him to its all-rookie and all-AFC squad . . . Grupp punts right-footed . . . He was a two-time all-Atlantic Coast Conference selection at Duke, finishing college with a 40.4 career punting average . . . Also played college baseball and was the Blue Devils most valuable player in 1976 . . . Majored in economics . . . A six-time participant in Punt, Pass and Kick competition . . . Worked in real estate in the time he was between football jobs, and continued in that capacity this past off-season in Philadelphia . . . A graduate of Neshaminy H.S. in Langhorne, Pa., which also produced kickers Chris (Oakland) and Matt (Pittsburgh) Bahr . . . Enjoys racquetball and competed in several tournaments during the off-year . . . Full name: Robert William Grupp . . . Single.

JAMES HADNOT • 48

Running Back Ht: 6-2 Wt: 244

How Acquired: Draft (No. 3-1980)

College: Texas Tech

NFL Experience: 2

Birthdate: July 11, 1957

Birthplace: Jasper, Texas

Residence: Lubbock, Texas

Once he obtained a starting role, Hadnot showed flashes of the talents that went into his being the club's third-round pick and second overall in last year's draft . . . With regular duty a possibility in 1981, he could become the power fullback the club envisions him as . . . Hadnot's best game came in his initial start, a 19-carry, 64-yard outing at St. Louis . . . He started the final five games last year, carrying for 207 of his seasonal 244 yards in that span . . . He played sparingly the first four weeks, then went through a stretch of five games without a carry before the coaching staff elected to go with him over the final third of the season; played in 13 games overall . . . Also had 60 yards on 14 carries in a win over Denver . . . His top pass receiving day came vs. Cincinnati, six for 32 yards . . . Scored touchdowns in the final two games at Pittsburgh and Baltimore . . . Hadnot came to Kansas City as the 66th overall pick in the draft . . . He was eighth in NCAA rushing as a senior, carrying 273 times for a school record 1,371 yards . . . Led the Southwest Conference in rushing his last two Texas Tech seasons . . . Began his college career as a tight end, then was switched to fullback before his junior year . . . His 1,371 yards rushing as a senior are third-best total in SWC single-season history . . . Set a school record with 268 yards rushing on 28 carries vs. New Mexico in 1978 . . . Hadnot also holds Texas Tech record for most career rushing yardage, 2,794 yards on 532 carries . . . Majored in physical education . . . Attended Jasper H.S. in Jasper, Tex., lettering in football, track and basketball . . . Full name: James W. Hadnot . . . Single.

ERIC HARRIS • 44

Cornerback Ht: 6-3 Wt: 191

How Acquired: Draft (No. 4d-1977)

College: Memphis State

NFL Experience: 2

Birthdate: August 11, 1955

Birthplace: Memphis, Tennessee

Residence: Memphis, Tennessee

Harris's addition to the Chiefs secondary made the unit one of the strongest in pro football . . . The former Canadian Football League all-star turned in a solid rookie season, intercepting seven passes to rank second on the club and in a tie for fourth place in the AFC . . . Harris had a string of six consecutive games, from Denver on Oct. 19 through St. Louis Nov. 23, in which he had one theft per game, joining six other NFL players in that category . . . Had his longest return of the year, 41 yards vs. Baltimore . . . Harris played 15 of 16 games, missing the season finale rematch vs. the Colts due to a leg injury . . . After playing as a reserve the first two games, Harris took over a starting job in the campaign's third week and maintained it up to the final game . . . He and Gary Green give the Chiefs one of the NFL's best cornerback tandems . . . Harris's first three professional seasons were spent with the Toronto Argonauts . . . Kansas City drafted him on the fourth round with a supplemental '77 pick, but Harris had signed prior to the draft with the CFL . . . He became a free agent in Canada, and came to the Chiefs after Kansas City exercised its right of first refusal on an offer tendered by New Orleans . . . Because they had drafted Harris, the Chiefs had the opportunity to match any contractual offer Harris received from any other NFL team . . . Harris intercepted 13 passes in three years with the Argos . . . They covered 205 yards in returns and included a 115-yard touchdown his rookie year, 1977 . . . Harris played left corner in the CFL but made the switch to the right side in Kansas City . . . He was named to the Eastern Conference all-star team two of his three Canadian seasons . . . Started in 48 consecutive games at Toronto . . . Prior to the '77 draft, Chiefs scouts rated Harris the second best cornerback available in the draft behind Green, whom Kansas City selected on the opening round . . . Harris played four seasons at Memphis State, picking off 13 passes . . . A member of the all-South independent team each of his college years and a first team performer his final two . . . A second team All-America selection by the Associated Press as a senior . . . Attended Hamilton H.S. in Memphis . . . This past winter, Harris became the third member of the Chiefs secondary in the last five years to receive the Mack Lee Hill Award, voted to the outstanding first-year player by Chiefs veterans; he joins Gary Barbaro and Green as recipients . . . Majored in business administration . . . Full name: Eric Wayne Harris . . . Single.

MATT HERKENHOFF • 60

Tackle Ht: 6-4 Wt: 270

How Acquired: Draft (No. 4-1974)

College: Minnesota

NFL Experience: 6

Birthdate: April 12, 1951

Birthplace: Melrose, Minnesota

Residence: Kansas City, Missouri

A second knee surgery in as many years meant another winter of stringent rehabilitation for Herkenhoff . . . After appearing in 47 consecutive games from 1976 to the early part of 1979, Herkenhoff played just five games in '79 when he was lost for the season with ligament damage to his right knee . . . He came back strongly from surgery to regain his starting status at left tackle last year, then opened in 14 games before going down in the latter moments vs. Denver . . . The damage this time was to the left knee . . . Herkenhoff was operated on again three days following the mishap and, following a path similar to the one he endured a year ago, he is ready to resume duty . . . Whereas he had much of the '79 regular season plus off-year to recuperate, Herkenhoff has accelerated his reconditioning this year due to the lateness of the season when he hurt the left knee . . . He credits knowing what to expect, plus the fact the second injury wasn't as severe as the first, as positive factors in his latest comeback attempt . . . When healthy, he's one of the best run blockers in the game and has become adept at pass protection . . . Drafted in 1974, his appearance in a Chiefs uniform was delayed two seasons . . . Herkenhoff signed that year with the New York Stars of the now-defunct World Football League, shifted to Charlotte with the Stars in mid-74, then came to Kansas City when that season ended . . . He spent all of 1975 on injured reserve with ankle trouble before earning a starting opportunity the following year . . . He was a two-year starter at left tackle for Minnesota, and earned honorable mention honors in all-Big Ten balloting . . . Majored in sociology . . . Has business ventures in the Minneapolis area, but has made Kansas City his year-round home . . . Full name: Matt Bernard Herkenhoff . . . Married this past off-season, wife Dawn.

SYLVESTER HICKS • 75

Defensive End Ht: 6-4 Wt: 252

How Acquired: Draft (No. 2-1978)

College: Tennessee State

NFL Experience: 4

Birthdate: April 2, 1955

Birthplace: Jackson, Tennessee

Residence: Jackson, Tennessee

Hicks's 1980 campaign got off to a frustrating start when he suffered a strained shoulder in the season opener . . . The injury forced him to the injured reserve list, where he spent four weeks, before he returned to play in a reserve role for 10 games at right end . . . Leg problems at the end of the year then kept him out of the last two contests . . . Hicks ended with 20 tackles, 13 unassisted, and had one sack for eight yards . . . He moves into the coming year with 8½ sacks in a career that began as the 29th player drafted in 1978 . . . Hicks was a starter in 13 of 16 games in 1979 . . . Over the last two years, he is used primarily in run situations . . . Hicks and Mike Bell split the defensive end duties in '79, then Hicks played behind Dave Lindstrom last year . . . A foremost goal is to avoid the injury miseries of a year ago so as to make a larger contribution . . . As a senior at Tennessee State, Hicks tied for second place in tackles on a squad that was second in the NCAA in team defense; also led the club with five quarterback sacks that year and was named the outstanding defensive player on the squad . . . Majored in health and physical education . . . Attended Northside H.S. in Jackson, Tenn. . . Divided time this past off-season between his hometown and Kansas City . . . Full name: Sylvester Hicks . . . Single.

THOMAS HOWARD • 52

Linebacker Ht: 6-2 Wt: 215

How Acquired: Draft (No. 3-1977)

College: Texas Tech

NFL Experience: 5

Birthdate: August 18, 1954

Birthplace: Lubbock, Texas

Residence: Lubbock, Texas

Howard moved from right to left outside linebacker last year, completing his third successive year as a defensive starter . . . He's now started in the last 48 Chiefs contests . . . Began his career behind Jim Lynch, but started in three games his rookie year of 1977 . . . Upon Lynch's retirement, Howard took over on the right outside, switching slots with Whitney Paul in training camp a year ago . . . Howard finished fourth among Chiefs defenders this past season with 95 tackles, 71 unassisted; he was bettered only by Gary Spani, Art Still and Frank Manumaleuna . . . He was second to Spani in opponent fumbles recovered with three . . . Also contributed 3½ sacks for 30 yards in losses to run his career total to 12 . . . Was the top linebacker in terms of QB sacks . . . Howard scored the first touchdown of his pro career when he grabbed a St. Louis fumble and returned it three yards in a Chiefs win . . . Did not have an interception last year, but grabbed one in each of his first three NFL campaigns . . . Has finished fourth and third in overall tackles the last two years . . . His lone interception return covered 19 yards vs. Pittsburgh in '79 . . . Howard lettered three years at Texas Tech, beginning collegiate career as a defensive end before being switched to linebacker prior to junior year . . . Earned Associated Press lineman of the week honors for his play in the 1976 season opener at Colorado, whose number one running back was Tony Reed . . . Howard was selected to the all-Southwest Conference team as a senior and played a major role in helping the Red Raiders post a 10-1 season, co-championship of the SWC and a berth opposite Nebraska in the Bluebonnet Bowl . . . Lettered three years in football and two in track at Dunbar H.S. in Lubbock . . . As a senior, he recorded the fastest 120-yard high hurdles time in the nation, 13.7 seconds . . . Majored in business . . . Full name: James Thomas Howard . . . Married, wife Priscilla.

BILL KENNEY • 9

Quarterback Ht: 6-4 Wt: 210

How Acquired: Free Agent

College: Northern Colorado

NFL Experience: 3

Birthdate: January 20, 1955

Birthplace: San Francisco, California

Residence: Greeley, Colorado

On the strength of three late-season starting appearances, Kenney gave every indication he will be a prime contender for the No. 1 position this season . . . After Steve Fuller left the lineup with a knee injury, Kenney opened in the final three contests and directed Kansas City to victory in two of them . . . His initial regular season work came at Denver's expense . . . Kenney completed 12 of 18 passes for 142 yards and two touchdowns . . . His first-ever NFL scoring pass was 33 yards to J. T. Smith . . . The following week, vs. Pittsburgh, the Chiefs led for much of the game only to be caught and passed in the final period . . . It was in the season closer at Baltimore, however, that Kenney truly proved his ability . . . In the course of a 38-28 win in which the Chiefs came from behind, Kenney completed 17 of 28 attempts for 316 yards and three touchdowns, one a 75-yard strike to Henry Marshall ... Kenney's performance marked the first time in five seasons that a Chiefs quarterback passed for 300 or more yards in a game; the last to do it had been Mike Livingston (332) vs. Washington in 1976 ... Nine of Kenney's 17 completions were to Marshall, whose 176 yards receiving are second-best in Chiefs annals ... Prior to his belated action, Kenney had never seen NFL regular-season action ... He was the next-to-last player drafted on the 12th round by Miami in 1978 ... With their quarterback plans firm, the Dolphins traded him during preseason to Washington, but the Redskins, in retaining only two quarterbacks, decided on veterans Joe Theismann and Billy Kilmer ... He sat out the remainder of the season, then signed with Kansas City as a free agent over the winter ... Kenney beat out '78 draftee Pete Woods for the third quarterback slot in 1979 behind Fuller and Livingston ... Kenney played in one '79 preseason game, and saw more extended summertime play in '80 ... Kenney began his college career at Arizona State, but transferred to Northern Colorado after a stop at Saddleback (Calif.) Junior College ... At UNC, he played tight end as a junior, catching 17 passes, then subbed at quarterback in two games, completing 18 of 40 attempts ... He then played quarterback fulltime as senior, completing 97 of 226 for 1,264 yards and seven touchdowns ... His father, Charles, was a guard for the San Francisco 49ers in 1947 ... Attended San Clemente H.S. in San Clemente, Calif. ... Full name: William Patrick Kenney ... Majored in business administration ... During the off-season he works as a stock broker in the Greeley firm of Wall Street West ... Married, wife Sandy, one child, a daughter born this past spring.

How Acquired: Draft (No. 7-1979)

College: Ball State

NFL Experience: 3

Birthdate: July 16, 1957

Birthplace: Hammond, Indiana

Residence: Kansas City, Missouri

Kremer played 14 games at both nose tackle and defensive end ... Began the regular season recuperating after hurting his ankle and knee in the final preseason game ... Kremer devoted much of his time to the DE slot, coming in on pass rushing situations, but also played a reserve role at nose tackle ... Finished his second year with 20 tackles, 13 unassisted ... Is one of the club's best pass rushers, finishing in a second-place tie with Dave Lindstrom with four sacks for 44 yards in losses ... Now has eight sacks for his career ... Also recovered one fumble a year ago ... Kremer came to the Chiefs following four seasons as a starter at Ball State ... He was named to the Mid-America Conference first team as both a junior and senior and was the conference player of the year his final season ... As a '78 senior, Kremer was Ball State's most valuable player on a team that won the MAC title with an 8-0 record en route to a 10-1 finish overall ... Accumulated 98 tackles his senior year, 14 for losses and eight quarterback sacks ... He was named his conference's player of the week on two occasions ... Spent the off-season working as a local representative for a Chicago-based trucking firm and also was a regular in the club's weight lifting program ... Majored in physical education ... Attended Thornton Fractional H.S. in Lansing, Ill. ... Full name: James Kendall Kremer ... Married, wife Patti,

DAVE LINDSTROM • 71

Defensive End Ht: 6-6 Wt: 257

How Acquired: Waivers (San Diego-1978)

College: Boston University

NFL Experience: 4

Birthdate: November 16, 1954

Birthplace: Cambridge, Massachusetts

Residence: Overland Park, Kansas

Lindstrom lined up opposite Art Still at right defensive end after Mike Bell was lost for the season early on . . . He was a starter in 14 of 16 contests, finishing the year tied for second with Ken Kremer in quarterbacks sacks . . . Lindstrom had four for 28 yards in losses . . . Accumulated 30 tackles, 21 unassisted . . . Ever since coming to the team at the beginning of the 1978 season, Lindstrom has performed capably in both a starting and reserve role . . . With a regular rotation system employed in Mary Levy's first two seasons, Lindstrom saw considerable action even though he wasn't a starter . . . That system was altered a bit last year due to injuries, but Lindstrom's play was such he'll be a contender again for regular duty . . . He appeared in 13 of 16 games in 1979, missing the final three games of the year with a strained knee . . . Lindstrom was San Diego's sixth round draft choice in 1977, but spent all of that year on the injured reserve list . . . He came to the Chiefs in the final, no-recall waiver late in the '78 preseasn . . . Played mainly on kicking teams that year, but did come in on pass rushing situations . . . Has a total of five sacks in his career . . . Majored in human movement . . . Lindstrom works in the off-season selling commercial real estate for Moore & Kessinger in Kansas City . . . He's also a proficient speaker and does numerous appearances in- and off-season . . . Attended Weymouth South H.S. in Weymouth, Mass. . . . Full name: David Alan Lindstrom . . . Married, wife Mary.

NICK LOWERY • 8

Kicker Ht: 6-4 Wt: 190

How Acquired: Free Agent

College: Dartmouth

NFL Experience: 2

Birthdate: May 27, 1956

Birthplace: Munich, Germany

Residence: McLean, Virginia

Lowery came from virtually nowhere to become the Chiefs kicker . . . He replaced longtime Kansas City legend Jan Stenerud, then went on to record one of the top kicking efforts in the league last year . . . Lowery's outstanding leg strength was certainly a factor in his making the club, and he etched his name in the record book early last season by kicking a 57-yard field goal vs. Seattle . . . He surpassed the old mark of 55 by Stenerud, which had stood since 1970 . . . Lowery was fifth in the AFC and eighth among NFL kickers with 97 points . . . He was a perfect 37-of-37 on conversions, and made good on 20 of 26 field goal attempts . . . Lowery's .769 field goal percentage was second to Houston's Toni Fritsch, who finished at .792 on a 19-of-24 effort . . . Three of the right-footed Lowery's six misses came from 50 yards or beyond . . . He was 13-of-15 from inside 40 yards and 16-of-19 inside midfield . . . His 57-yard field goal was matched only by Denver's Fred Steinfort for longest in the NFL last year . . . Before coming to Kansas City, Lowery had been rebuffed by several NFL teams . . . His first stop after leaving Dartmouth was with the New York Jets in 1978; signed in the spring, he was let go in training camp and signed with New England . . . The Patriots used him briefly in the '78 regular season as Lowery made all seven of his conversions and missed his only field goal attempt before being waived . . . He had training camp looks with both Cincinnati and Washington in '79 . . . Majored in government and spent the time out of football working as an intern on Capitol Hill . . . During this past off-year Lowery worked in the office of Missouri state senator Richard Bolling . . . Spent part of his childhood growing up in Europe, where he played both rugby and soccer . . . Lowery's father served in the U.S. Foreign Service . . . Full name: Dominic Gerald Lowery . . . Single.

How Acquired: Free Agent

College: Rutgers

NFL Experience: 2

Birthdate: December 19, 1958

Birthplace: New York, New York

Residence: Staten Island, New York

Mangiero's spirited play during training camp led to his eventually winning a place on the team . . . Signed with the Chiefs after being bypassed in the draft and caught the attention of the coaches early on with his strength and pass rush talents . . . He was with the club until the cutdown to 50 players . . . Instead of returning home, Mangiero took his chances of being re-signed by living in a suburban motel and working out on his own . . . After Ken Kremer was hurt in the final preseason game, his hope became reality as he returned to the team in time for the season opener . . . Spent most of his first year as a backup to Don Parrish, but did receive one start at Seattle when Parrish was ailing . . . Appeared in all 16 games and finished the year with 50 tackles, 35 unassisted . . . Contributed 1½ sacks for nine yards in losses . . . Mangiero's good nature and enthusiasm made him a popular figure among the players . . . He was one of three Chiefs to make the roster as pure free agents, those who had never been with another NFL team; the others were Paul Dombroski and Tom Clements . . . Mangiero played defensive tackle at Rutgers, where his line coach was Ted Cottrell, recently hired by Marv Levy to coach the Chiefs linebackers . . . In a rarity for a defensive lineman, Mangiero intercepted a Terry Bradshaw pass last year, deflecting the ball at the line of scrimmage and picking it out of mid-air . . . He performed the heroics in front of a large contingent of fans who'd come over from his native New York to Pittsburgh . . . During off-season, friends and associates on Staten Island threw a testimonial dinner in his honor, inviting coach Walt Corey as guest speaker . . . Lifelong N.Y. Yankees fan and created a minor stir last fall when he predicted on local newscast that Yankees would sweep K.C. Royals in American League playoffs; the opposite proved true . . . Majored in physical education . . . Full name: Dino M. Mangiero . . . Single.

FRANK MANUMALEUGA • 54

Linebacker Ht: 6-2 Wt: 245

How Acquired: Draft (No. 4-1979)

College: San Jose State

NFL Experience: 3

Birthdate: May 9, 1956

Birthplace: Laie, Samoa

Residence: Carson, California

Manumaleuga started the first 13 league games at left inside linebacker, then relinquished the job to Jerry Blanton the last three contests . . . Both he and Blanton will be battling for the job in 1981 . . . Manumaleuga (pron: Mon-new-molly-ooh-na) played in all 16 games, but had his best outing in the Chiefs come-from-behind win at Seattle . . .

Manumaleuga intercepted two passes, one for the first touchdown of his NFL career, helping Kansas City to a single-point victory . . . On the touchdown run, Manumaleuga resembled a fullback, knocking down several Seattle offensive players on his way to the end zone . . . He is not unused to toting the football, having played fullback during a stint at DeAnza (Calif.) Junior College . . . He has played in 31 of 32 games the last two years, missing one game and parts of some others his rookie year with a strained knee . . . Manumaleuga was third among Chiefs tacklers last year with 80 solo and 29 assisted stops for 109 overall . . . He was the fourth leading stopper his first year with 89 total tackles . . . His last name means "Bird of Paradise" in the Samoan language . . . Manumaleuga started his college career at UCLA, playing football and basketball as a freshman . . . A neck injury followed, and some physicians prescribed he give up football, though others recommended rest and continued therapy . . . The latter paid off, as Manumaleuga resumed his career, first at DeAnza and later at San Jose State, where he played his last two seasons . . . A third team All-America choice by Associated Press his senior year and was named to the all-Pacific Coast Athletic Assn. team each of his two San Jose State seasons . . . Was also PCAA defensive player of the year in '78 . . . Competed in football, basketball, baseball and track and field at Banning H.S. in Carson, California . . . HENRY MARSHALL • 89

Wide Receiver Ht: 6-2 Wt: 214

How Acquired: Draft (No. 3d-1976)

College: Missouri

NFL Experience: 6

Birthdate: August 9, 1954

Birthplace: Broxton, Georgia

Residence: Kansas City, Missouri

Though not known as a passing team, the Chiefs nonetheless set a club mark for seasonal completions last year and one of the big reasons was Marshall . . . He had by far his best NFL campaign, leading Kansas City with 47 receptions, 19 more than his previous high . . . His 17.0 average ranked in the top 10 average-wise among AFC receivers . . . He caught fire in the latter half of the season, catching seven passes at St. Louis and then having his best afternoon ever in the final game at Baltimore . . . Marshall was on the receiving end of nine Bill Kenney passes, gaining 176 yards and scoring the longest touchdown of his career, 75 yards . . . He joined four other Chiefs with nine receptions in one game and the 176 yards receiving put him in a tie with Cincinnati's Isaac Curtis for the AFC and NFL top spot of most yards gained in one game . . . In the Chiefs record book, Marshall's yardage is second alltime to the 213 by Curtis McClinton in 1965 . . . He was the second-leading scorer with 36 points on six touchdowns, five of which contributed to Kansas City victories . . . He scored on a 31-yard toss from Steve Fuller vs. Houston, then latched on to a 46-yard aerial the next week at Denver . . . His 75-yard score vs. the Colts bettered his previous scoring long of 49 yards . . . Marshall led the Chiefs in average per reception for the second successive year . . . He caught at least one pass in 15 of 16 games, missing out only vs. San Diego in the club's first meeting . . . Marshall has now started consecutive games . . . Before last year, Marshall had never caught more than 28 passes in a season, and that figure came his rookie year . . . Had over 100 receiving yards in three games last year . . . Marshall also is used from time to time on end-around plays . . . He carried three times last year with a long of nine, but has scored two rushing touchdowns in his career, a 59-yard romp at Miami his first season and then a 23-yard score in '79 at Oakland that gave the Chiefs their first regular season win in the Oakland Coliseum in 15 years ... Marshall was drafted by Kansas City on a pick obtained from Houston in a deal involving Curley Culp. An outstanding senior season at Missouri caught scouts attention and more than offset a mediocre junior year, when he caught only five passes ... Upended that to 44 receptions, 945 yards and nine touchdowns with a long of 75 yards ... Majored in economics ... Marshall has continued the legendary Chiefs tradition of No. 89—first worn by current Chiefs scout and former receiving star Otis Taylor ... Played basketball in high school and still plays quite a bit with a Chiefs team over the winter to stay in shape ... Attended Hillcrest H.S. in Dalzell, S.C. ... Full name: Henry H. Marshall ... Single.

TED McKNIGHT • 22

Running Back Ht: 6-1 Wt: 216

How Acquired: Waivers (Oakland-1977)
College: Minnesota-Duluth
NFL Experience: 5
Birthdate: February 26, 1954
Birthplace: Duluth, Minnesota
Residence: Lenexa, Kansas

McKnight led Kansas City rushers for the second season in a row ... He was 13th among AFC runners with 693 yards, down slightly from his 755 of a year ago ... Saw more activity in 1980 than any other year, carrying 206 times, fifth most in club history ... His top rushing day last season came in the opener vs. Oakland, 77 yards on 14 carries with one touchdown ... Had 60 or more yards rushing in six different games ... Scored three touchdowns, giving him a career 16 total ... McKnight passed the career 2,000-yard figure late in the year ... He could move into fifth place on the club's alltime list this coming year ... Caught passes in 13 of 16 games to rank fourth overall with 38 ... That matched his total in 1979, when he paced the Chiefs in both rushing and receiving ... McKnight set a club record in 1979 when he ran for an 84-yard touchdown at Seattle, breaking the old mark of 80, shared by Abner Haynes and Warren McVea ... That run propelled McKnight to the best day of his career, 147 yards on 12 carries; he has a career total of two 100-yard days ... McKnight's longest rush in '80 covered 25 yards ... Big plays characterized his '79 season; in addition to the 84-yard TD, he also had a 70-yard score vs. Baltimore ... Started 16 games last year and has opened in the last 21 games ... In the past, McKnight was utilized as a kickoff return man ... His 70-yard return in '77 is still the second-longest since Noland Smith's record 106-yard effort in 1967 ... McKnight was a second round draft choice by Oakland in 1977 ... The Chiefs obtained him on waivers just before the opening of that year's regular season ... He was the top rusher in Minnesota-Duluth history with 2,963 yards in four seasons ... Was the NCAA Division II rushing champion in 1976 with 1,482 yards on 220 carries and 22 touchdowns ... Interested in theatre and film work and would like to begin a television career while still in his playing days ... Represented the Chiefs a year ago on the yearly

United Way message ... Attended Duluth Central H.S. in Duluth, Minn. ... Full name: Theodore R. McKnight ... Married, wife Dawn, one child.

ARNOLD MORGADO • 21

Running Back Ht: 5-11 Wt: 205

How Acquired: Free Agent

College: Hawaii

NFL Experience: 5

Birthdate: March 27, 1952

Birthplace: Honolulu, Hawaii

Residence: Honolulu, Hawaii

Morgado is one of the top short-yardage rushers in football ... In limited duty over 11 games, he gained 120 yards but scored four touchdowns on runs of one yard each time ... Morgado spent a grueling off-season between 1979 and last year ... He suffered a broken fibula in the latter portion of '79 and the recuperation took most of his off-season time ... Then shortly after he reported to training camp, he pulled a quadricep muscle that was serious enough to force him onto the injured reserve list ... Morgado didn't return to active duty until the fifth week, but nonetheless picked up where he'd left off by scoring a touchdown at Oakland that helped beat the Raiders ... His 47 carries and 120 yards were his lowest figures of the last three years, but he continued to perform capably on the kicking teams ... His top rushing day came at Denver with seven carries for 34 yards ... Scored five touchdowns overall and that total was exceeded only by Henry Marshall, who had six ... Morgado's best season was 1978, when he came off the bench to rush for 593 yards ... Earned his only 100-yard game that year with 29 carries for 115 yards in an overtime loss at San Diego ... His first NFL experience came with the Chargers in 1976; he failed in a free agent try there, but made the Chiefs in 1977 on the basis of his kicking teams performance ... He was signed by the Chiefs after Les Miller, scouting the Hula Bowl practices, observed him in workouts ... One of three Chiefs players (Charlie Ane, Paul Dombroski the others) who make their off-season residence in Hawaii ... Morgado began his college career at Michigan State, but transferred to Hawaii to complete his eligibility ... Majored in physical therapy ... Attended Punahoa H.S. in Honolulu ... Full name: Arnold T. Morgado ... Married, wife Karen.

Tackle Ht: 6-6 Wt: 254

How Acquired: Free Agent

College: Brigham Young

NFL Experience: 6

Birthdate: September 30, 1953

Birthplace: Mesa, Arizona

Residence: Provo, Utah

Formerly of St. Louis and Detroit, Oates was signed with two games left last year following a knee injury to Matt Herkenhoff . . . He played in one of the two, the season finale at Baltimore . . . Oates was a third round St. Louis draft choice in 1976 . . . He played in 1976-77 as a backup to Dan Dierdorf at St. Louis, performing mainly on kicking teams . . . The Cardinals released him in 1978, but Oates signed with Detroit, for whom he appeared in 15 games that year . . . Lions subsequently let him go in early 1979, but St. Louis re-signed him following injuries to Dierdorf and others . . . Oates made the Cardinals roster again in '80, playing with Big Red until drawing his release late in November; he signed with Kansas City two weeks later . . . Oates began his college career at Duke, but later transferred to Brigham Young, where he won all-Western Athletic Conference honors as a senior . . . Majored in political science and is a law school student in the off-season . . . Attended Albany H.S. in Albany, Ga. . . . Full name: Robert Brad Oates . . . Married, wife Karen, two children.

DON PARRISH • 61

Nose Tackle Ht: 6-2 Wt: 264

How Acquired: Free Agent

College: Pittsburgh

NFL Experience: 4

Birthdate: April 6, 1955

Birthplace: Tallahassee, Florida

Residence: Kansas City, Missouri

The starting nose tackle over the past 2½ seasons, Parrish was the seventh leading tackler last year with 75 stops, 56 unassisted . . . He has been steadily consistent in the middle, with tackling totals the last two years virtually identical . . . Had 2½ quarterback sacks for 25½ yards in losses, giving him 10½ in three years . . . Parrish was jobless when the 1978 season opened, but he closed it as the Chiefs outstanding first-year player and Mack Lee Hill Award winner . . . He'd been selected by the Atlanta Falcons on the 12th round in 1977, then spent all that year on injured reserve . . . The Falcons released him late in the '78 preseason, and Parrish was on his way to possible employment in Canada when the Chiefs intervened . . . Indicative of the Chiefs building effort on defense is the fact four of the last five Mack Lee Hill recipients have been defensive players . . . Parrish played on Pitt's 1976 national championship team and was a college teammate of Dallas running back and former Heisman winner Tony Dorsett . . . Attended Amos Godby H.S. in Tallahassee . . . Parrish works for Coors Brewing Co. in Kansas City in sales and public relations . . . Full name: Donald Parrish . . . Single.

WHITNEY PAUL • 53

Linebacker Ht: 6-3 Wt: 220

How Acquired: Draft (No. 10-1976)

College: Colorado

NFL Experience: 6

Birthdate: October 8, 1955

Birthplace: Galveston, Texas

Residence: Kansas City, Missouri

A healthy Whitney Paul would be a tremendous boost for the Chiefs linebacking corps. Unable to shake a series of leg ailments last year, Paul was restricted to 10 starts and 12 appearances overall . . . He's hopeful of a return to his 1978-79 form when he provided great stability at left outside linebacker . . . Despite being in and out of the lineup, accounted for 55 tackles last year, 40 unassisted . . . Recovered a pair of opponent fumbles and was credited with one-half a sack . . . He moves into his fourth season as a linebacker . . . When Marv Levy and staff instituted the 3-4 defense, Paul, formerly a defensive end, was shifted to outside linebacker . . . He made the position switch quickly, and showed signs of being a premiere player at that position until the injuries slowed him last season . . . Had appeared in 59 consecutive games before missing the final game of 1979 and was inactive four games last season . . . Enjoyed a personal high of eight quarterback sacks in 1979 and has a career total of 19½ . . . Has recovered five fumbles over last two years . . . Paul came from out of the pack to win a roster spot his rookie year . . . He started at defensive end at midseason and retained that status through the next four seasons . . . He's intercepted at least one pass in each of the last four campaigns . . . Made a rapid adjustment to linebacker, as Chiefs coaches consider him one of the best pure athletes on the squad . . . A two-year starter at Colorado, he was one of 10 CU players drafted in '76 . . . Began his college career as a tight end, but moved to defensive end his last two seasons . . . Participated in the shot put and high jump in addition to football at Ball H.S. in Galveston . . . Also high-jumped at Colorado with lifetime best of 6-10 . . . Plays basketball in the off-season for conditioning . . . Majored in recreation . . . Full name: Whitney Paul . . . Single.

Peterson saw his most extensive game action as a Chief last year in relief of Whitney Paul . . . He appeared in all 16 games, opening in six at left outside linebacker when Paul was sidelined . . . Turned in a creditable performance and is a candidate for regular duty this season . . . Peterson finished 1980 with 40 stops, 26 on his own . . . Also had one sack for 11 yards . . . He knows the frustration of injury as his career at one time appeared to be over due to nagging knee difficulties . . . Prior to making the club as a free agent in 1979, Peterson had been out of football the two previous seasons . . . He entered the NFL as a third round Dallas draftee in 1974 . . . Played two seasons with the Cowboys and was a member of the '75 NFC champions . . . Went to Tampa Bay in 1976 veteran allocation, but played in only five games for the Buccaneers before giving way to a knee injury that kept him sidelined the remainder of that year . . . Missed all of 1977 and was out of football in '78 as well following a missed free agent try at Los Angeles . . . Has one career interception, that at Dallas . . . Played defensive end at UCLA, where he majored in communications . . . Peterson has had some off-season experience in the film industry and played small roles in a couple of films . . . Attended Los Angeles H.S. . . . Has several real estate holdings that he tends to in Southern California during the off-season . . . Full name: Calvin E. Peterson . . . Single.

College: Oklahoma

NFL Experience: 3

Birthdate: January 7, 1955

Birthplace: New Orleans, Louisiana

Residence: New Orleans, Louisiana

Reese played 14 games as a reserve behind Herb Christopher at strong safety . . . He was with the club at the beginning of the season, was released, then re-signed after being out of football for two weeks . . . Had a total of 10 tackles, mostly on kicking teams duty . . . Reese was the regular strong safety for the first half of 1979, but suffered a knee injury that required surgery and forced him to miss the rest of the year . . . Rehabilitation was successful, but he was unable to wrest the starter's role away from Christopher, who himself had been re-signed when Reese was injured . . . A shortage of personnel at another position forced the waiver on him last year . . . His first pro experience came at Denver in 1978, where he was released after a free agent try . . . Signed with Kansas City in '79 and became a product of an extensive free agent signing program in force at that time . . . Had an impressive '79 pre-season in which he intercepted three passes to help him win a job . . . Played four seasons at Oklahoma, during which time the Sooners either won or shared the Big Eight football championship . . . Majored in recreation . . . Attended St. Augustine H.S. in New Orleans . . . Full name: Jerry Louis Reese . . . Single.

As was the case with some of his teammates, Rome's season had a bizarre end to it last year . . . After appearing as a reserve and kicking teams player in 10 contests, Rome collided with Charlie Getty in a freak, pregame accident at San Diego . . . Rome was warming up running patterns when he and Getty crashed into each other and the result for Rome was a strained knee that kept him on the shelf for the balance of the year . . . He caught three passes for 58 yards, with one of them, a 33-yard advance at Seattle, playing a crucial role in Kansas City's win over the Seahawks . . . As Steve Fuller was about to be tackled in his own end zone, he found Rome open downfield and the play resulted in a Chiefs first down near midfield; Kansas City went on to score the winning touchdown in a 31-30 triumph . . . Rome played in nine games his rookie year . . . He suffered a broken foot in the club's minicamp prior to the '79 campaign, and wasn't activated until October . . . A college teammate of Fuller at Clemson, Rome played only one year of varsity football . . . That was as a sophomore in 1975 . . . He played basketball the remainder of his college career and led the Tigers in scoring his senior season . . . Rome was drafted by the NBA Cleveland Cavaliers and was the Cavs last cut in '78 training camp . . . He played all of 1978-79 with Reno of the Western Basketball Association before being drafted by the Chiefs and giving pro football a try . . . Attended Valdosta H.S. in Valdosta, Ga. . . . Rome set a national high school record with 4,477 yards pass receiving in four prep seasons . . . His 201 receptions rank third alltime . . . As might be expected, plays a lot of basketball in the off-season and often plays with teammates in area games . . . Full name: Stanford B. Rome . . . Single.

Birthdate: March 9, 1957

Birthplace: Norfolk, Virginia

Residence: Norfolk, Virginia

Rose was released on the final cutdown to 45 players at the outset of last regular season, but when M. L. Carter had to undergo surgery, he was re-signed at the midway point . . . Appeared in seven games overall as a backup corner and had one tackle on special teams play . . . Rose was an unheralded free agent when training camp opened, but quickly impressed with both his kicking teams effort and play at cornerback . . . He was signed out of Hampton Institute, where he earned all-NAIA District 19 honors as a senior and set a school record with eight career interceptions . . . In four years, Rose played defensive back, linebacker, returned both punts and kickoffs and was the team's kicker in parts of two years . . . He was Hampton's most valuable player as a senior, leading the team in tackles with 120 . . . He'll once again compete for work at the corner and on the kicking teams . . . Single.

JIM ROURKE • 70

NFL Experience: 2

Birthdate: February 10, 1957

Birthplace: Weymouth, Massachusetts

Residence: Abington, Massachusetts

Though his primary position is guard, Rourke has the ability to play everywhere along the offensive line and that versatility was tested sternly at the start of last season . . . With injuries to Jack Rudnay and Charlie Getty keeping them out of the lineup, Rourke started twice at center and once at right tackle in the first four weeks . . . When a second injury felled Getty for the rest of the campaign, Rourke opened six more times at right tackle, giving him nine starts in 15 games played . . . Rourke originally was a ninth round Oakland draft choice in 1979 . . . He was one of the last players released by the Raiders, then sat out the entire year before signing with the Chiefs . . . A three-year starter at Boston College, Rourke played both guard and tackle for the Eagles; during the latter half of last year, the right side of the Chiefs offensive line was manned by BC graduates Rourke and Tom Condon . . . Rourke participated in the Blue-Gray and Senior Bowl games . . . Attended Boston College H.S., participating in basketball and track in addition to football . . . Majored in sociology . . . To realize Rudnay's significance to the Chiefs, consider these figures from a year ago: with him on the sidelines, the club was 0-4; with him in the starting lineup, 8-4 . . . Rudnay's string of 144 consecutive games went by the boards when the 1980 season opened . . . He'd torn a hamstring in training camp and was placed on injured reserve when the final 45-man roster was set . . . Forced to sit out the opening month, Rudnay could not prevent a four-game losing streak, but returned in Week Five at Oakland as the Chiefs posted their initial win, 31-17 . . . From then on, the season was symbolic of the type Chiefs fans have come to know and expect from the "chief executive" of the dressing room . . . Before his injury last year, his string of 144 games in succession was (and is) third-best in team history behind Jan Stenerud (186) and Jim Tyrer (180) . . . Now in his 12th NFL season, Rudnay joins Johnny Robinson, Dave Hill, Bobby Bell and Mike Livingston with that many campaigns of Chiefs service; only seven others have played longer . . . He's the only current Chief whose experience column reads in double figures . . . Even so, Rudnay is still one of the league's finest centers . . . According to Marv Levy, last year was one of his best . . . Rudnay has appeared in four AFC-NFC Pro Bowl Games, the last one coming in 1976 . . . Throughout his career, he has played with a multitude of injuries, some major, others minor . . . Snapped the majority of one game with a fractured hand, then played in subsequent weeks with the aid of a brace . . . Durability has been the mark of his Kansas City tenure, but ironically his career began on an injury note . . . He suffered a back injury in the 1969 College All-Star Game and missed the Chiefs Super Bowl season as a result . . . Rudnay replaced E.J. Holub as the starting center midway through the 1970 season and won the Mack Lee Hill Award that year . . . The Chiefs have never drafted a center higher than they did Rudnay, who played both center and defensive tackle in college . . . Now the oldest member of the offensive line, he was the youngest starter when he took over a decade ago . . . Rudnay is extremely active in charitable affairs which, to his liking, receive little or no fanfare . . . The Special Olympics are a favorite for which he personally recruits other players participation . . . He's also engineered a ticket purchase plan with other Chiefs whereby several different groups of underprivileged or disadvantaged youths attend home games . . . In 1980, he received the prestigious Bruce Rice Humanitarian Award, presented by Milgram Foods . . . Rudnay enjoys hunting and fishing year-round and is often in the duck blind early in the morning prior to meetings and practice . . . He's also an accomplished skier . . . Owns several antique automobiles, including a completely restored 1955 Chevrolet . . . Attended Kenston H.S. in Chagrin Falls, Ohio . . . College major was history . . . Full name: John Carl Rudnay . . . Married, wife Polly, two children.

BOB SIMMONS • 73

Guard Ht: 6-4 Wt: 260

How Acquired: Free Agent

College: Texas

NFL Experience: 5

Birthdate: July 7, 1954

Birthplace: Temple, Texas

Residence: Kansas City, Missouri

A four-year starter at left guard, Simmons also opened at tackle in three games last year when Matt Herkenhoff was injured . . . He started in 47 games over three years before giving way for one game a year ago . . . Totaled 15 games in all, 12 at guard, three at left tackle . . . Simmons had one of his best pro seasons last year; while many conceded his position to top draft choice Brad Budde. Simmons applied his knowledge of two offensive line positions to his advantage . . . He reported to the Chiefs as a free agent, though he'd been a third round draft pick by New Orleans in 1976 . . . He suffered an ankle injury that year, then the Saints inexplicably put him on waivers . . . He originally made the squad as a reserve, but gained a starting guard role from Charlie Getty in 1977; Getty subsequently moved to tackle . . . Simmons was named to the all-Southwest Conference team each of his three Texas seasons . . . Following senior year, was named to first-team All-America squads by Associated Press and United Press International . . . Simmons played in two Cotton Bowls, the Gator Bowl, Bluebonnet Bowl and Hula Bowl during his college career . . . Captained the '75 Texas squad . . . Works regularly in a weight program during the off-season . . . Interests include golf . . . Majored in physical education . . . Attended Temple H.S. in Temple, Tex., . . . Full name: Robert Gatling Simmons . . . Married, wife Sherry, two children, twin girls.

Smith's punt return talents earned him a trip to the AFC-NFC Pro Bowl Game, but he was equally important to Kansas City as a pass receiver . . . He was the club's second-leading receiver with 46 catches, one behind Henry Marshall, and had his best year ever on offense . . . He was on the receiving end of the Chiefs longest pass play of the year, a 77-yard toss from Steve Fuller vs. Baltimore . . . But it was his work on the punt team that won him national recognition and forced a second rewriting of the Chiefs punt return records in as many years . . . He led the NFL in punt returns with a 14.5 average on 40 returns; his nearest challenger finished at 12.2 and the nearest AFC runner-up was at 10.0 . . . Smith's average was the best in the league since Houston's Billy Johnson had a 15.4 figure in 1977 . . . For the second successive year, Smith returned two punts for touchdowns . . . The first was a 75-yard runback at St. Louis that tied for the longest return in the league . . . Smith followed with a 53-yard touchdown in the final game at Baltimore . . . In 1979, set a club record with an 88-yard touchdown vs. Oakland and had 55-yard score at Houston . . . Smith is now the Chiefs career leader in punt returns and yardage, having surpassed Ed Podolak in both totals last season . . . He's one-two in seasonal returns with 58 in '79 and 40 last year, giving him 98 with Kansas City and 102 overall . . . His seasonal totals of 612 and 581 yards also are the two highest in Kansas City history . . . He holds two of the team's four longest punt returns, the 88-yard record-setter and the 75-yard jaunt vs. the Cardinals last year . . . Top punt return days last year included six for 93 yards at St. Louis and five for 123 with a 56 long in the first Baltimore game . . . Before his first punt return score in '79, the Chiefs had not had a punt touchdown since 1968 . . . In addition to being one of three Chiefs (Art Still & Gary Barbaro were the others) named to the Pro Bowl, Smith was named as a punt returner on the all-NFL team as named by Associated Press, Football Digest all-pro squad and the Pro Football Writers of America all-pro team . . . Smith's best pass receiving game of his career came in the last game of the year at Baltimore . . . Caught seven passes for 129 yards and one touchdown; it was the first time in his career he eclipsed the 100-yard receiving figure . . . Has caught passes in 30 of the last 32 games . . . Smith has been on the receiving end of both Steve Fuller's and Bill Kenney's first touchdown passes in the NFL . . . Smith joined Kansas City after being released by Washington in 1978 . . . He'd come to the Redskins as a free agent, playing in six games as a defensive back, running back, wide receiver and kick returner . . . Played in six more games with the Chiefs, exclusively on the kicking teams . . . Starred at wide receiver in four years at North Texas State, but wasn't drafted following senior year . . . Majored in recreation . . . Outstanding basketball player and plays considerably in off-season . . . Full name: John Thomas Smith.

GARY SPANI • 59

Linebacker Ht: 6-2 Wt: 230

How Acquired: Draft (No. 3-1978)

College: Kansas State

NFL Experience: 4

Birthdate: January 9, 1956

Birthplace: Satanta, Kansas

Residence: Lee's Summit, Missouri

The pillar of the Chiefs linebacking corps, Spani rapidly has become one of the NFL's finest inside linebackers . . . For the third successive year, or every season he's been in the league, Spani led Kansas City defenders in tackles . . . His 1980 totals included 96 unassisted stops with 53 assists for a 149 total, nine more than runnerup Art Still . . . Spani's seasonal stops have been remarkably consistent; he had 144 as a rookie, then his personal high of 157 in 1979 . . . He now has 36 consecutive starts at right inside linebacker, and has started all but three games in three seasons . . . Spani recovered four opponent fumbles last year to lead the team with one resulting in a touchdown . . . He also intercepted his first pass as a pro and it was instrumental in a Chiefs victory . . . His 47-yard theft of a Ken Stabler aerial and subsequent touchdown paved the way to a single-point Kansas City win . . . Also had 2½ quarterback sacks for 18½ yards in losses . . . In his three Chiefs seasons, Spani has accumulated 313 solo tackles and 137 assists for a 450 total, an average of 150 per year . . . Making tackles is nothing new for him . . . He totaled 545 in four varsity seasons at Kansas State, where he was that school's first and still only consensus All-America . . . His college achievements are especially notable in light of the fact K-State had a combined 11-33 record during Spani's four years and did not win a conference game in any of his last three Big Eight seasons . . . He was a three-time all-Big Eight selection and was named to the conference all-decade team in 1979 . . . Played in the Shrine East-West Game, Hula Bowl and Japan Bowl all-star games following his senior year . . . Spani is active in fund-raising ventures at Kansas State and spent most of the off-season in Manhattan, where he shares a home with K-State teammate Paul Coffman, tight end for Green Bay . . . Interests include golf and fishing . . . Majored in personnel management . . . Attended Manhattan H.S. in Manhattan, Ks. . . . Full name: Gary L. Spani . . . Single.

ART STILL • 67

Defensive End Ht: 6-7 Wt: 252

How Acquired: Draft (No. 1-1978)

College: Kentucky

NFL Experience: 4

Birthdate: December 5, 1955

Birthplace: Camden, New Jersey

Residence: Kansas City, Missouri

Still's 1980 performance unquestionably certified him as one of pro football's premiere defensive ends . . . In only his third NFL season, he was named a starter on the AFC Pro Bowl squad . . . Still was the only non-San Diego player on the AFC's starting front line, joining Fred Dean, Gary Johnson, Louie Kelcher on the all-star unit . . . In earning Pro Bowl recognition for the first time, Still did so with the quality, consistent play that has marked his first three Kansas City seasons . . . He was second to Gary Spani in total tackles with 140, but led the team in individual stops with 107 . . . Still has led also in quarterback sacks each of his three campaigns . . . Last year was his best, as he reached opposing quarterbacks 14½ times for 115 yards in losses . . . Over three years, Still's sack totals are an impressive 29½ for 237 lost yards . . . He was one of three Chiefs named to the Pro Bowl, joining teammates Gary Barbaro and J. T. Smith . . . Still was selected by United Press International to its all-AFC team and was named to all-NFL squads as selected by Football Digest, the Pro Football Writers Assn. and Newspaper Enterprise Assn. . . . Sports Illustrated named Still to its all-league team for the second successive year . . . A durable player, Still has not missed a start in three years and has appeared in 48 consecutive regular season games . . . He has been the cornerstone of a rapidly-improving Chiefs defense . . . Prior to Still's nomination, the last Chiefs defensive lineman to be selected for the Pro Bowl was Buck Buchanan in 1972 . . . As Kansas City's top draft pick in 1978 and the second player taken in the draft behind Houston's Earl Campbell, Still became the highest-drafted Kansas City lineman since Buchanan in 1963 . . . A consensus All-America at Kentucky in 1977, Still was the Southeastern Conference player of the year in UPI balloting . . . A four-year starter at defensive end for the Wildcats, who finished 10-1 his senior year but could not play in a bowl game due to NCAA probation . . . Played in the Shrine East-West Game, Hula Bowl and Japan Bowl all-star games . . . Majored in criminology . . . Works in sales and public relations for Coca-Cola in Kansas City during the off-season . . . Comes from a family of 10 children; one of his younger brothers plays basketball at William Jewell College, the Chiefs summer training base . . . One of Still's main off-season interests is basketball also and he plays regularly with other Chiefs players in benefit games . . . Full name: Arthur Barry Still . . . Single.

MIKE WELLMAN • 68

Center Ht: 6-3 Wt: 255

How Acquired: Free Agent

College: Kansas

NFL Experience: 2

Birthdate: July 15, 1956

Birthplace: Newton, Kansas

Residence: Lawrence, Kansas

Wellman signed with the Chiefs over the winter and bids for a center slot with several other candidates . . . Originally a third round draft choice by Los Angeles in 1978, he was traded to Green Bay in '78 preseason and Wellman spent all that year as a backup snapper and kicking teams player . . . During the final week of that season, he contracted what later was diagnosed as mononucleosis . . . The illness hampered him into the start of the 1980 season and he later was released by Green Bay at midyear . . . Handled punt team deep snaps while with the Packers and will concentrate on long snaps during training camp . . . A three-year starter with the Jayhawks, Wellman participated in the Shrine East-West Game and Senior Bowl contests . . . While a student at Newton H.S. in Newton, Ks., he held the state shot put record . . . Full name: Michael Jay Wellman . . . Single.

MIKE WILLIAMS • 40

Running Back Ht: 6-3 Wt: 222

How Acquired: Draft (No. 8a-1979)

College: New Mexico

NFL Experience: 3

Birthdate: October 14, 1957

Birthplace: New Kingston, Pennsylvania

Residence: Albuquerque, New Mexico

After a one-year experiment as a tight end, Williams returns to the offensive backfield where he showed considerable promise as a 1979 rookie . . . He was switched to tight end last year due to his blocking ability and started in 11 of the 16 contests he appeared in . . . Caught two passes on the year for nine yards, but one was a 3-yard touchdown that helped beat Detroit . . . He'll compete with Ted McKnight for the fullback job this year . . . Williams carried for 261 yards as a '79 freshman and had a 28-carry, 109-yard performance in a victory at Oakland . . . That was the last time any Chiefs back has gone over the 100-yard figure . . . He's appeared in 30 of 32 games the last two years, missing the final two of '79 due to a strained knee . . . As a collegian at New Mexico, Williams led the Western Athletic Conference in rushing in both 1977 and '78 . . . Carried for 1,240 yards as a sophomore on 258 carries, then followed with 1,096 yards (265 carries) and 1,014 (212) . . . All told, rushed for 3,861 yards, highest total in New Mexico history . . . His career best was a New Mexico record 236 yards on 47 carries, a WAC record, vs. Texas El Paso in 1977 . . . Majored in speech communication . . . Attended Parkland H.S. in El Paso . . . Full name: Michael Anthony Williams . . . Single.

RETURNING 1980 DRAFTEE

Round 4

DAVE KLUG

Concordia (Minn.)

Linebacker

6-4 230

Klug is a highly-regarded candidate for regular duty this fall . . . Although he was drafted in the 1980 selection, this will be his first NFL training camp . . . Prior to the draft, Klug injured his ankle while working out on a Cybex machine . . . After a sufficient rest period, which carried into last year's training camp, the ankle still did not respond, and surgery was performed . . . Following a season-long rehabilitation, Klug is prepared to bid for an outside linebacking slot . . . He was the 94th overall selection in '80 after playing his collegiate career as a standup defensive end . . . Klug played four years of varsity football, three as a starter; he also was a forward on Concordia's basketball team and competed on the track team as a high hurdler . . . He was a member of Concordia's 1978 NCAA Division III national championship football squad as a junior . . . Klug was a two-year first team selection by the Minnesota Intercollegiate Athletic Conference . . . Majored in health and physical education . . . Attended Litchfield H.S. in his native Litchfield, Minnesota . . . Single . . . Born May 17, 1958.

FREE AGENTS

Free agents have come to the Chiefs by a variety of ways and means. Here's a capsule look at some of them:

RB DAVID CUNNINGHAM played college football at the Chiefs training base, William Jewell College in Liberty, Mo. He finished his career with 1,419 yards rushing as a senior . . . LB KELLY KIRCHBAUM was active for one game last year after being claimed from the N.Y. Jets. He was a fifth round Jets draft choice in 1979 but has spent the majority of the last two years on injured reserve . . . RB RONNIE ROWLAND is back for a second try with Kansas City. He was signed as a free agent in 1978 but did not make the final roster and has played the last two years with Calgary and Hamilton of the CFL . . . QB MIKE SOLOMON played college football at Missouri Western in nearby St. Joseph, Mo. He tried out in a 1980 free agent camp, then signed with the club when Tom Clements returned to Canada . . . WR CHARLIE TAYLOR spent all of last year recuperating from a training camp knee injury. He was a ninth round Denver draft choice in 1979 . . . RB CURTIS BLEDSOE was a free agent with Dallas in 1980 . . . LB PHIL CANCIK played five games with the N.Y. Giants last year . . . G JOE HOMAN had a free agent try a year ago at Denver . . . LB JOHN OLENCHALK has previous pro experience at Montreal of the CFL . . . T GERALD SCOTT was in Oakland's training camp a year ago.

CHIEFS 1981 DRAFT

Round 1

WILLIE SCOTT
South Carolina

Tight End
6-4½ 245

Kansas City exercised the 14th overall pick in the draft to select Scott, who was the first tight end taken this year . . . A talented blocker as well as pass receiver, Scott's best campaign was last year when he caught 27 passes for 360 yards and two touchdowns . . . Scott's blocking prowess helped enable South Carolina teammate George Rogers to win the Heisman Trophy; most of Rogers's end runs and sweeps were to Scott's side with the tight end leading the blocking downfield . . . Scott was the Gamecocks second-leading receiver as a sophomore and junior before leading the team his senior year . . . He now ranks 10th on South Carolina's alltime reception list . . . Among his 1980 highlights were a six-catch, 88-yard day vs. Southern California and seven receptions for 109 yards in the Gator Bowl vs. Pittsburgh . . . In that contest, Scott was matched up against Pitt's All-America defensive end Hugh Green . . . Scott was an honorable mention All-America choice by Associated Press and earned a spot in the East-West Shrine Game . . . Had seven touchdowns for his career, with a high of four in 1978, his sophomore year . . . Played in a two-tight end offense much of his career . . . Full name is Willie Louis Scott, Jr. . . His father, Willie, Sr., is a school vice-principal and his mother is a teacher . . . Among Scott's interests is listening to classical music . . . Born February 13, 1959 in Newberry, South Carolina.

Round 2

JOE DELANEY
NW Louisiana

Running Back
5-10 186

The Chiefs chose Delaney as the 41st overall selection in the draft . . . He's considered a speed back, with 4.4-4.5 speed for 40 yards . . . Became the first N.W. Louisiana rusher to carry for over 3,000 yards in a career, surpassing the old mark held by Sidney Thornton, now of Pittsburgh . . . N.W. Louisiana competes as an independent in football and Delaney was fifth in NCAA Division I-AA rushing in 1980 with 1,110 yards . . . That represented his best showing in four varsity seasons, as he averaged 111 yards per game . . . Two senior-season highlights included a 253-yard rushing output vs. Portland State, followed by 231 yards against Nicholls State . . . Delaney participated in both the Blue-Gray Game and the Senior Bowl . . . Also dependable as a pass receiver, catching 19, 21 and 23 passes each of the last three years . . . Very definitely a breakaway-type runner, with long gains of 77, 89, 89 and 81 yards over four seasons . . . Delaney concluded his college career as the leading rusher in Demons history . . . First running back in recent times to be named all-Louisiana three straight seasons . . . Gained 100 yards or more 11 different times, and had three 200-yard efforts. Delaney also competes on the track team at N.W. Louisiana and this spring he ran the second leg of N.W. Louisiana's 400-meter relay team which won the NCAA title in 39.3 seconds, a new school and Louisiana state record . . . Delaney holds school records for 100 (10.3) and 200 (20.6) meters . . . Has achieved All-America status in both football and track . . . Named to Coaches 1980 first-team Division I-AA All-America team . . . Earned honorable mention Little All-America honors by Associated Press . . . Played wide receiver at Haughton (La.) High School . . . Born October 30, 1958 in Henderson, Texas.

Round 3a

MARVIN HARVEY

Southern Mississippi

Tight End

6-2 222

With the 70th overall pick in the draft, Kansas City selected its second tight end in Harvey . . . The top pick was TE Willie Scott of South Carolina . . . Harvey paced Southern Mississippi receivers last year with 28 receptions for 359 yards, 12.8 average and three touchdowns . . . He was an honorable mention All-America choice by Associated Press and a first-team All-America selection by Newspaper Enterprise Association . . . At the conclusion of the year, Harvey participated in the Blue-Gray Game and the Senior Bowl . . . Harvey is third on Southern Mississippi's alltime receiving list . . . He established a school record in 1977, his freshman year, when he averaged 31.2 yards per catch . . . In 1979, Harvey was named Southeastern area lineman of the week following a 38-8 victory over Mississippi . . . Has been timed in 4.5 seconds for 40 yards . . . Four-year letterman whose 14 touchdown receptions are second highest in school history . . . Associated Press named Harvey to its first team all-South team as both a junior and senior . . . Majored in athletic administration/coaching with minor in physical education . . . Played linebacker and running back in high school at Marianna, Fla. . . . Earned all-state, all-county and all-conference honors prior to enrolling at Southern Mississippi . . . Born October 17, 1959 in Donnasonville, Georgia.

Round 3b

ROGER TAYLOR
Oklahoma State

Tackle
6-6 265

Kansas City drafted Taylor in the No. 75 slot overall following a draft-day trade with the Denver Broncos . . . The Broncos sent a No. 3 choice previously acquired from Cleveland, plus a No. 4 selection in 1982, to the Chiefs in exchange for veteran RB Tony Reed . . . With the No. 3, Kansas City chose Taylor, who shuttled between the defensive and offensive lines at Oklahoma State . . . As a sophomore in 1978, he'd ranked fourth on the Cowboys with 45 tackles and eight sacks . . . After opening the '79 campaign at defensive end, Taylor was switched to offensive line; in spite of playing less than two full seasons on the offensive line, the position is not totally unfamiliar for Taylor, as he played and lettered three years at tackle in high school and was an all-state choice his senior year . . . Also competed in basketball in addition to the shot put and discus at Star Spencer (Okla.) High School . . . Born May 1, 1958 in Shawnee, Oklahoma.

Round 3c

LLOYD BURRUSS
Maryland

Safety
5-11½ 200

Burruss comes to Kansas City as the 78th overall selection . . . He was obtained by the Chiefs on a pick from Los Angeles in a trade for Walter White a year ago . . . Burruss completed his Maryland career with nine pass interceptions . . . He played four varsity campaigns over five years, missing the entire 1979 season due to a broken ankle suffered just prior to the opener that year . . . Returned in 1980 to have a fine season and formerly injured ankle is now 100% . . . Burruss was a first team all-Atlantic Coast Conference selection and an honorable mention All-America choice by Associated Press . . . He accumulated 160 total tackles, with a high of 71 in his junior year . . . He is also a solid kicking teams performer who returned both punts and kickoffs for the Terrapins . . . As a punt returner, he totaled 41 for a 5.4 average; top year was 1978, when he led the squad with 25 runbacks for a 6.8 average . . . Burruss is projected as a strong safety by the Chiefs . . . He was a starter in four bowl games for Maryland, the Cotton, Hall of Fame, Sun and Tangerine . . . Had a total of five kick blocks in four years and had a 47-yard punt return touchdown in '78 vs. Tulane . . . Grabbed his first collegiate interception as a freshman in front of the home folks vs. Virginia at Charlottesville . . . Attended Charlottesville H.S. where he was a prep All-America in two sports, football and track . . . As a trackman, competed in the 440, 880, relays, long and triple jumps and shot put . . . Born October 31, 1957 in Charlottesville, Virginia.

Round 4
RON WASHINGTON
 Arizona State

 Wide Receiver
 5-11½ 190

Washington was Kansas City's fourth round selection and the 97th overall in the draft . . . Played two years, 1976-77, before being redshirted in 1978 and then returning for 1979-80 . . . Washington's best pass receiving year was as a junior in '79, 25 receptions for 381 yards and a pair of touchdowns . . . His 75-yard touchdown vs. Toledo was the longest reception by an Arizona State player last year . . . Washington was the Sun Devils leading kickoff returner last year and finished third in the Pacific 10 in that department with a 24.5 average . . . With 35 career kickoff returns, ranks first in ASU annals and is second in alltime yardage . . . Majored in communications . . . Born January 6, 1958 in Phoenix, Arizona.

Round 5
TODD THOMAS
 North Dakota

 Tackle-Center
 6-5½ 267

Thomas is the 124th player selected and the second offensive lineman chosen by Kansas City . . . In addition to tackle, Thomas also is projected as a possible center candidate . . . He is an excellent deep snapper, performing that duty all four years at North Dakota . . . Earned Division II All-America honors from Associated Press following his senior year . . . Has good size and strength for tackle position, and scout's capsule indicates he could learn the nuances of pass protection while he concentrates on deep snap chores . . . He is the second ND player drafted by the Chiefs in as many years; Kansas City selected DT Dale Markham a year ago . . . The Chiefs plan to try Thomas primarily at tackle, but will look him over at center as well . . . Born December 2, 1959 in Mankato, Minnesota.

Round 6DOCK LUCKIE
FloridaNose Tackle
6-1½ 260

A defensive tackle at Florida, Luckie is projected as a nose tackle by the Chiefs . . . Luckie is considered one of the strongest players to come out of the collegiate ranks . . . Over four seasons, recorded 210 tackles, 129 unassisted, and had 13 quarterback sacks . . . Bench-pressed over 600 pounds during a workout last season . . . Luckie was a three-year starter at defensive tackle and also played nose guard for the Gators . . . He was the SEC's player of the week last season following a performance vs. Mississippi in which he made seven tackles and recovered a fumble . . . Luckie has two shot put and one discus championships in the SEC already and plans to compete in both events this spring . . . As a senior at Central H.S. in Fort Pierce, Luckie became the national prep discus record holder, the state shot put champion and the state heavyweight wrestling champion . . . Prep Sports Magazine named him high school athlete of the year in 1976 . . . Majored in recreation . . . Born May 24, 1959 in Gainesville, Alabama.

Round 7*BILLY JACKSON
AlabamaRunning Back
6-0 225

A combination rusher and blocker, Jackson led Alabama ballcarriers in 1980 with 606 yards on 111 carries . . . That ranked ninth in the Southeastern Conference . . . Jackson was a second-team all-SEC choice and earned honorable mention All-America honors from Associated Press . . . Played in the Senior Bowl Game . . . He was a member of two national championship teams with the Crimson Tide in 1978-79 . . . Top day rushing came in 1978 vs. Florida, 147 yards . . . His top 1980 output was 108 yards on 10 carries vs. Mississippi . . . Gained 120 yards in Alabama's 24-9 victory over Arkansas in the 1980 Sugar Bowl that ensured second national title . . . Noted as an outstanding blocker . . . Attended Central H.S. in Phenix City . . . Lettered three seasons at Alabama . . . Majored in social work . . . Born September 13, 1959 in Phenix City, Alabama.

Round 9

ANTHONY VEREEN

SE Louisiana

Defensive Back

5-10½ 202

Vereen is a possibility at both safety and corner with Kansas City . . . Initial scouting reports indicate best potential at strong safety, but figures to get a long look at both secondary positions . . . Finished his career with 12 interceptions; his best year in that department came in 1979 when he had five . . . Vereen played mostly cornerback his senior year . . . Earned four varsity letters at SE Louisiana, where a former teammate was Donald Dykes, now of the New York Jets . . . Was utilized as both a punt and kickoff return man in college . . . Earned first team all-Gulf South Conference honors in both his junior and senior seasons . . . Accounted for 59 tackles, 33 unassisted, his final season . . . Played at Biloxi H.S. in Biloxi, Miss. . . Born September 4, 1958 in Biloxi, Mississippi.

Round 10

LES STUDDARD

Texas

Guard

6-4½ 255

A three-year starter for the Longhorns, Studdard began his college career at tight end, but switched to guard as a junior and has played there the last two years . . . He completed his collegiate tenure by being named to the all-Southwest Conference team as selected by both Associated Press and United Press International . . . Studdard's brother, Dave, is an offensive line starter for the Denver Broncos . . . Also named to an all-SWC team as chosen by the Dallas Morning News . . . Strong, agile run-blocker, he is being counted upon to vie for duty in the Chiefs offensive line . . . Played at Pearsall H.S. in his hometown of Pearsall, Tex. . . Physical education major . . . Born December 14, 1958 in El Paso, Texas.

Round 11FRANK CASE
Penn StateDefensive End
6-4½ 242

Case's best season for the Nittany Lions was last year, which culminated in a Fiesta Bowl appearance against Ohio State . . . Case had a blocked punt in Penn State's game with Nebraska and had two other partial blocks vs. Pittsburgh . . . Missed four games last year with a sprained knee, returning to play in the final two regular season games and Fiesta Bowl . . . Finished the year with 25 total tackles, 16 unassisted . . . Had two sacks as a senior and three overall . . . Did not play in 1979 . . . Played middle guard in '78 and started in several contests . . . Has also played guard while at Penn State . . . Case grew up in unusual surroundings, living in a Bucks County prison where his father was a warden and his mother a matron . . . Earned All-America honors at Central Bucks West H.S. in Doylestown, Pa. . . . Majoring in speech communication . . . Born August 14, 1958 in Jacksonville, North Carolina.

Round 12*BOB GAGLIANO
Utah StateQuarterback
6-2½ 191

Kansas City's final draft choice divided his college experience between United States International University and Utah State . . . Gagliano was a junior college All-America in 1977 at Glendale (Calif.) College . . . He sat out the 1978 season, then transferred to USIU for 1979 . . . That season, he established several school passing records in throwing for over 2200 yards and 17 touchdowns . . . At the end of that season, however, USIU dropped its football program, and Gagliano transferred to Utah State . . . He was eligible immediately and last year he completed 184 of 345 attempts for 2,365 yards and 20 touchdowns . . . Gagliano won the Utah State quarterback job in spite of the fact he didn't transfer to his new school until the spring of 1980 . . . He is considered a good runner and sprint-out type quarterback . . . With the departure of Tom Clements to the Canadian Football League, Gagliano will vie for duty behind the Chiefs' veteran quarterbacks Steve Fuller and Bill Kenney . . . Attended Hoover H.S. in Glendale, Calif. . . . Born September 5, 1958 in Los Angeles, California.

THE LAST ... AND THE FIRST

The Chiefs have had two homes during their tenure in Kansas City. The first was Municipal Stadium downtown, the club's home from 1963 through 1971. The last Chiefs game played there was the longest game in pro football history, Miami's 27-24 win over Kansas City in six quarters during the opening round of the 1971 playoffs. Arrowhead opened in 1972 and the Chiefs were victorious in the first contest played there, a 24-14 preseason triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals.

CHEFS CHAMPIONSHIP REVIEW

1962 AFL CHAMPIONSHIP GAME DALLAS at HOUSTON December 23, 1962

A contest that moved the infant American Football League into the national consciousness proved to be the first of three AFL titles for Hank Stram's Texans/Chiefs.

Following second place finishes in each of the league's first two seasons, the Texans ran away with the AFL West championship in 1962. Dallas finished 11-3, a full four games in front, and was matched with the Houston Oilers, also 11-3, who had won the AFL title in 1960 and '61 over the Los Angeles, then San Diego Chargers.

The Texans, paced by a pair of touchdowns from Abner Haynes, took a 17-0 halftime advantage. Haynes scored first on a 28-yard pass from Len Dawson and then on a two-yard run after Tommy Brooker had given Dallas a 3-0 first-quarter advantage with a 16-yard field goal.

But the momentum quickly shifted to the Oilers in the second half. George Blanda, then a "young" 35-year-old, passed 15 yards to Willard Dewveall for a touchdown and kicked a 31-yard field goal before Charley Tolar burst over from the one to tie the game at 17-17 in the fourth quarter.

The two teams then went into the first sudden death overtime in AFL annals. The Texans won the toss and Stram elected to kick off, maintaining his defense could hold the Oilers long enough for Dawson to get the ball in good field position. Herein came the famous "kick to the clock" episode in which Texans captain Haynes inadvertently elected for his team to kick into the wind instead of having it as the consolation for not receiving the football.

Neither club mounted a serious challenge in the early stages of overtime, but as the fifth quarter was drawing to a close, Dallas defensive end Bill Hull intercepted a Blanda pass and returned to midfield. Dawson then passed to Jack Spikes for 10 yards, Spikes, the game's most valuable player, ran for 19 and the Texans were in field goal range. At the 2:54 mark of the sixth quarter, Brooker kicked a 25-yard field goal to give the Texans a 20-17 victory and the American Football League championship. The game lasted 77 minutes and 54 seconds and would be the longest in pro football history until the Chiefs and Miami Dolphins played over 82 minutes nearly a decade later in 1971.

January 1, 1967

With a berth in Super Bowl I as the prize, the Chiefs visited ancient War Memorial Stadium for a New Year's Day clash with the defending AFL champion Buffalo Bills.

The game, played in frigid, subzero temperatures, produced its first break on the opening kickoff. Jerrel Wilson recovered a Bills fumble on the Buffalo 31-yard line. Three plays later, Len Dawson passed 29 yards to Fred Arbanas for the first touchdown and a 7-0 Kansas City lead.

Buffalo, though, tied the game near the end of the opening period when Jack Kemp hit Elbert Dubenion on a 69-yard pass play. Few thought it would be the Bills final score of the day.

The Chiefs defense stiffened and Dawson led the offense to 10 second-quarter points. Otis Taylor caught a 29-yard touchdown pass and Mike Mercer added a 32-yard field goal, aided by a 72-yard pass interception by Johnny Robinson.

Mike Garrett then applied the coup de grace for the Chiefs by scoring on runs of one and 18 yards. Kansas City won its second AFL title in four years and awaited the Green Bay Packers in Super Bowl I.

SUPER BOWL I KANSAS CITY vs GREEN BAY January 15, 1967

Representing themselves and the American Football League in the first championship match with the National Football League, the Chiefs played well for one half before bowing to the supremacy of the Green Bay Packers.

Vince Lombardi's Packers, one of the great pro football teams of all time, won Super Bowl I by a 35-10 score. But the Packers held a slim 14-10 advantage at the half before the game turned on one play in the third quarter.

Green Bay opened the scoring when Bart Starr passed 37 yards to Max McGee. McGee making a remarkable one-handed catch for the touchdown. Len Dawson tied the game for the Chiefs when he passed to Curtis McClinton for a second period touchdown. The Packers then went back on top, 14-7, before Mike Mercer kicked a 31-yard field goal just before the half ended.

The Chiefs momentum carried over into the third quarter as Kansas City moved to a first down on its initial possession. But then the game's key play, one that doomed the underdog Chiefs, unfolded when Willie Wood intercepted a Dawson pass intended for Fred Arbanas at midfield. Wood returned all the way to the Chiefs 5-yard line, where Elijah Pitts ran for a third Green Bay touchdown and an insurmountable 21-10 lead.

1969 AFL CHAMPIONSHIP GAME KANSAS CITY at OAKLAND January 4, 1970

On the day the American Football League played the final game of its 10-year history, the Kansas City Chiefs became the only three-time AFL champion. The Chiefs, through a curious playoff system, played their Western Division rivals, the Oakland Raiders, for the league's last title. Oakland, which had won the AFL West and held a pair of regular season wins over the Chiefs, went down to a 17-7 defeat, the first of several AFL/AFC title game defeats that have bedeviled the Raiders during the past decade.

Ironically, Kansas City's win in the Oakland Coliseum was its last to date. And the Raiders have fared little better in the confines of Municipal and then Arrowhead Stadium.

The contest, unlike other Raiders-Chiefs matchups, was marked by turnovers. The two clubs managed one first-half touchdown apiece, Oakland's on a three-yard run by Charlie Smith, Kansas City responding with a one-yard plunge by Wendell Hayes after Len Dawson had hit on passes of 14 yards to Otis Taylor and 41 yards to Frank Pitts.

In the third quarter, George Blanda twice missed field goal attempts that would have moved Oakland in front. Midway through the period, Kansas City mounted a drive from its own 2-yard line, the field position a result of a fumble which luckily was recovered before it bounded into the end zone. Dawson and Taylor pulled Kansas City out of the hole with a 35-yard pass and run play. Robert Holmes added 23 more on a flare pass in the left flat and then scored the go-ahead touchdown five plays later.

At this point, the game became a defensive struggle. Led by defensive charges from the entire front four of Aaron Brown, Buck Buchanan, Curley Culp and Jerry Mays, the Chiefs continually harassed Raiders quarterback Daryle Lamonica. But the turnovers which would plague both teams were only beginning.

In the fourth quarter, turnovers gave Oakland the football three times in Kansas City territory. Three times the Chiefs responded with interceptions, one each by Jim Marsalis, Jim Kearney and Emmitt Thomas. Thomas's steal was his second of the day and covered 62 yards to the Oakland 18-yard line. Jan Stenerud's field goal provided a 17-7 lead and a return to the Super Bowl.

SUPER BOWL IV KANSAS CITY vs MINNESOTA January 11, 1970

Kansas City's finest sports hour concluded at 5:20 in the afternoon of Sunday, January 11, 1970, when the Chiefs defeated the Minnesota Vikings, 23-7, for the world championship of pro football.

The Chiefs, who finished 11-3 on the season and defeated the New York Jets and Oakland in the playoffs, closed out their first decade as the outstanding team in the American Football League which, with Super Bowl IV, came to an end. Beginning in 1970, the two leagues merged, with the AFL becoming the American Football Conference of the NFL.

Minnesota, a prohibitive favorite, was 12-2 during the regular season and at one point had won 12 games in succession.

The Chiefs took an early lead when Jan Stenerud kicked a 48-yard first quarter field goal. Stenerud's kick remains a Super Bowl record. He then followed with field goals of 32 and 25 yards for a 9-0 lead.

Kansas City received the first break in the game when the Vikings Charlie West fumbled a kickoff and Remi Prudhomme recovered at the Minnesota 19-yard line. After an eight-yard loss, Len Dawson handed off to Wendell Hayes, who rambled for 13 yards up the middle on a draw play. A 10-yard pass to Otis Taylor gave the Chiefs a first down at the 4. Three plays later Mike Garrett burst off-tackle for five yards and a touchdown. The Chiefs held a 16-0 halftime lead, stunning the Vikings and a nationwide television audience.

Minnesota mounted a mild third-quarter comeback when Dave Osborn scored from four yards out to cut the margin to 16-7. But any hopes the Vikings had of getting closer were dashed by Otis Taylor, who lived up to his big-play reputation repeatedly through that season.

Dawson hit Taylor on a short hitch pattern, but when Earsell Mackhee missed the initial tackle, Taylor was loose down the right sideline, highstepping his way to a 46-yard touchdown. After three quarters, the Chiefs again held a 16-point lead.

As was so often the case in 1969, the defense came to the fore. Minnesota had the ball three times in the final period and, as in the Oakland game the previous week, the Chiefs snuffed out all three chances with interceptions. Middle linebacker Willie Lanier picked off a Joe Kapp pass to halt a rally at the Chiefs 34-yard line. Later on, Johnny Robinson, playing with what turned out to be three broken ribs, grabbed another errant Kapp throw. In the game's closing minutes, Emmitt Thomas intercepted his third pass of the playoffs. The Chiefs then ran out the clock to capture the AFL's second consecutive Super Bowl triumph.

The American Football League's 10-year history had come to an end with the Kansas City Chiefs its most successful team. The 1970s would usher in a new era for the Chiefs, an era that would produce noted changes as the club sought to regain its position as world champion.

CHIEFS CLUB

Chiefs Official Booster Organization

The Chiefs Club is the official booster organization for the Kansas City Chiefs and has long been regarded as one of the most active support groups in the National Football League.

With its official membership numbering 2,500, the Chiefs Club is active in ticket drives, special events, charter trips to away games and numerous civic and charitable functions in the greater Kansas City area.

Howard McHenry, the energetic driver and motivator behind two recent season ticket drives, returns for his second year as president

HOWARD McHENRY of the Chiefs Club. McHenry hails from Harrisonville, Mo.

Instrumental in a big civic push that solidified the Chiefs franchise in Kansas City in the early sixties, the Chiefs Club continues to sponsor several civic functions each year. Major among the events are Kansas City's famous "101 Banquet," an annual salute to the outstanding players and coaches in the AFC and NFC and the annual Chiefs Club Kickoff Luncheon. The "101 Banquet" is a black tie awards dinner held in February and is recognized as one of pro football's finest awards dinners. The annual Kickoff Luncheon, staged the week of the Chiefs regular season home opener, salutes the 45-man Chiefs team at a special civic luncheon. In addition to hosting special in-season dinners with Chiefs coaches and players, the booster club stages several off-season social events and participates and coordinates two collegiate scholarships for area youths—the Len Dawson Scholarship and the Bruce Rice Scholarship.

CHIEFS MEDIA

BROADCAST TEAM — The Chiefs announce team for 1981 is Wayne Larrivee (left) and Bill Grigsby (foreground). Larrivee will handle the play-by-play with Grigsby providing the color commentary. As in each of the Chiefs 19 seasons in Kansas City, the broadcasts will be carried by 81/KCMO. The Chiefs will also be heard throughout the Midwest under broadcast rights awarded to the Mutual Broadcasting System. Larrivee, a New England native, begins his fourth year as the Chiefs radio voice. He previously broadcast University of Iowa football. A popular figure on the Kansas City scene, Grigsby's broadcast credits include the Chiefs plus major league baseball.

MACK LEE HILL AWARD

The 15th Mack Lee Hill Award was presented to a player of whom coach Marv Levy said, "helped make our secondary super." He was referring to cornerback Eric Harris, who wasted no time a year ago in making an imprint on both his team and the National Football League.

Harris, a 1977 Chiefs draft choice, played three years in the Canadian Football League. When he left Toronto to join Kansas City and the NFL, he did so as a CFL all-star. Harris's first NFL campaign indicated he could reach similar status with the Chiefs. He finished second to Gary Barbaro for the club interception lead with seven and had a string of six consecutive contests in which he intercepted a pass each game.

Harris became a starter at right corner the third week of the regular season. From that point on, he, along with Barbaro, Gary Green and Herb Christopher, played a strong role in a Chiefs secondary that ranked 10th in the NFL in pass defense.

He becomes the third member of the Kansas City defensive backfield to be the recipient of the Mack Lee Hill Award. Barbaro was honored in 1976 and Green earned recognition the following year.

A native of Memphis, Tenn., Harris attended Memphis State. While in Canada, he played in 48 consecutive regular season games and had a total of 13 interceptions in three years. One was a 115-yard touchdown return.

Each year since 1966, the Chiefs veteran players have selected a recipient for the Mack Lee Hill award. It is a tribute to the late Mack Lee Hill, an outstanding running back who played for the Chiefs in 1964 and 1965. He was described as a man who played as much with his heart as he did with his driving legs in the early days of the American Football League.

In memory and tribute to Mack Lee Hill, the award is presented annually at the "101 Banquet" to the Chiefs rookie, who, as the inscription on the trophy reads—"best exemplifies the spirit of the late Mack Lee Hill . . . the man with the giant heart and quiet way." In selecting the recipient, the Chiefs players look for a rookie who has displayed the spirit and attitude of Mack Lee Hill.
